WITH THE BRITISH ARMY, In The Desert, July 30.—American tank crews, winding up the last stages in a rigorous training program which has accustomed them to the heat and grime of desert warfare, are preparing to go into action soon alongside British imperial troops.

I visited their training quarters in the western desert today and while not allowed to reveal the number of tanks, the total personnel or any other particulars, I can say that the men are from all sections of the United States Army.

These rugged American tank crews will be be using American-made tanks which the British have found to be more than a match for the German panzers.

Tomorrow is the last day of the auto inspection period. It is reported that there are quite a large number of cars that have not as yet been inspected. In the state at large records show thousands not recorded as inspected. It is possible that many of these cars have been put out of commission as the result of tire and gas conditions.

SIXTY YEARS AGO TODAY FRED L. RENTZ STARTED WORK ON NEW CASTLE NEWS

Today marks the completion of sixty years of service upon the New Castle News for Fred L. Rentz, president of the company. On July 30, 1882, as a boy of 14, he came in from the farm of Sylvester Sage near Moravia, where he was working in a wheat field, to accept a job as a printer's devil. From that he went on to be a compositor; foreman of the composing room, manager of the plant; and finally president, which title he holds today.

Ten years ago his jubilee anniversary was marked by more or less fanfare. This year, at his express request, the day is marked by little more than the congratulations of

They departed at 7:24 o'clock and this morning's ceremony was a brief one, due to the early hour and the fact that many of those leaving had not reported until just a few minutes before train time.

The composite band was on hand and played several selections, but there was no speaking program.

By JAMES E. BROWN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, July 30.—(5:07 P. M. Local Time, 11:07 A. M., E. W. T.)—Firm conviction that the German armies can and will be stopped before Stalingrad was expressed by the newspaper Pravda today after Premier Josef Stalin had issued an order of the day calling upon Soviet forces to halt their retreat and stand firm.

Reflecting the determination voiced by Stalin himself in his "not a step back" message to the valiant Red armies, Pravda's editorial sounded the most hopeful note seen in the Soviet press since the disastrous southeastern campaign began.

Eight Are Dead In Plane Crash

Army Transport Training Craft Falls In Field South Of Minneapolis

ACCIDENT OCCURS SOON AFTER TAKE-OFF

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

MINNEAPOLIS, July 30. — All eight men aboard a Northwest Airlines plane being used as an Army transport training craft were killed today when the ship crashed and burned at the Wold-Chamberlain field south of Minneapolis.

The big multi-motored plane plumeted to earth only seconds after taking off at 7:45 a. m. Witnesses said the plane appeared to hesitate in the air and then dived sharply downward from a height of but 200 feet or less.

No identification was made immediately of the eight victims whose bodies were badly charred in the flaming wreckage.

Emergency field equipment was rushed to the scene, but so intense was the heat from the burning debris that would-be rescuers could not approach.

The plane had been turned over by Northwest Airlines to the Army to help train Army transport pilots and presumably had taken off on a routine training flight. The Wold-Chamberlain airport, also known as the Mineapolis Municipal Air Field, has been in use as a cargo-transport training center for some time.

STATE PRISON YARD, Salt Lake City, July 30.—Donald Lawton Condit, 25, of Los Angeles, was executed by a firing squad behind the walls of the Utah State prison today.

Until a few seconds before he went to his doom, Condit talked in a mild-mannered voice, declaring that capital punishment is "futile because it is no deterrent to crime."

The riflemen, four of them with loaded weapons and the fifth firing a blank cartridge, blasted their volley at 6:10 A.M. (MWT) and the killer appeared to be dead one minute later.

Wedding Occurs At White House

Extremely Private Ceremony Unites Mrs. Macy And Harry Hopkins

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 30.—In an extremely private White House ceremony, Harry Hopkins today took Mrs. Louise Gill Macy of New York City as his bride.

It was 12:18 p. m. when the Rev. Dr. Russell J. Clinchy of Hartford, Conn., pronounced them man and wife, and the president's right hand man leaned down to kiss the vivacious brunette socialite.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt and a very limited wedding party looked on approvingly as the marriage vows were taken in the famous oval room study. A screen of greenery served as a backdrop for the nuptials.

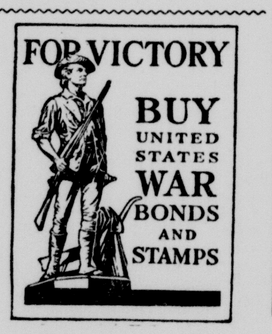

It was the first White House wedding in a quarter of a century, and had been arranged solely because the president was so anxious to be on hand when his close friend and principal assistant took his bride. Mrs. Macy had wanted a large wedding at the Ardmore, Pa., estate of her sister, Mrs. Nicholas Ludington, but she deferred to the president's wishes.

R. A. F. Continuing Heavy Air Attacks On Big German Centers

By LEO V. DOLAN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, July 30—Royal Air Force bombers during the night conducted a concentrated heavy raid on the German industrial city of Saarbruecken and left a vast area of the city in ruins, the air ministry announced today.

Nine British craft failed to return from the attack, indicating that a probable force of 200 planes participated.

The raid, the air ministry said, was "heavy and concentrated."

"Preliminary reports," it was added, "indicate that much damage was done."

City Singled Out

The bomber command singled out Saarbruecken from its long list of German manufacturing cities destined for destruction as the Nazi Luftwaffe returned over England and raised the industrial city of Birmingham for the second time in three nights.

The R. A. F. assault marked the fifth British raid on German industrial areas in six nights. Only on Monday did the British fail to attack Germany proper. Last Friday and Saturday Duisburg was heavily blasted. Sunday and Tuesday Hamburg was battered by forces estimated at 600 planes.

The air ministry said "a strong force" had blasted Saarbruecken, important center of iron and steel production in the heart of the coal region of western Germany.

Biddle Fights Spies' Appeals

Seeks Swift And Deadly Justice Policy For Spies In U. S.

By JACK VINCENT
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Attorney General Francis Biddle, fighting the move of seven of the eight German saboteurs to escape trial by a military commission, today asked the United States Supreme Court to establish broad new policies making American justice as swift and deadly as total war itself.

Appearing before the nation's highest tribunal at a special session of the court called for the sole purpose of considering the spy case, Biddle said that old legal decisions of civil war vintage should not be allowed to set the precedent for deciding the present controversy.

The court started its extraordinary session at high noon yesterday but was forced to let the hearing go into the second day today when Biddle could not complete his arguments against defense moves to save the spies from the death penalty.

Attorneys for the defense are asking the high court to consider an appeal for writs of habeas corpus for seven of the spies, who claim that they are entitled to trial by civil courts instead of before the sever-general military commission appointed by President Roosevelt.

Fliers Increase Attacks

While land forces sought to smash the Japs back along the jungle road across the Owen Stanley range from Kokoda, some 600 miles from Moresby, United Nations fliers increased their efforts to wipe out the enemy coastal bases at Gona and Buna.

During one heavy air assault along the coast, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced, Allied bombers damaged and probably sank a Japanese destroyer.

Mr. Shepp died in the Jameson Memorial hospital at 5:25 a. m., July 24, having been injured the evening before at 7:10 o'clock. Mulcahy's bail was placed at $500 by Alderman Brice.

Sheriff Testifies

He stated that Mr. Shepp was standing across the street, at the north cross walk, and that they exchanged greetings. Mr. Shepp telling Badger that he was on his way to the carnival.

Fourth Day Of Court-Martial

Girl Testifies To Hearing Requests For Gifts From New Ensigns

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30—Gaining in dramatic intensity, the general court martial of Lieut. Commander Maurice N. Aroff, U. S. N. R. at the navy's Yerba Buena Island base entered its fourth day today.

Jarred from the monotony of documentary evidence by the surprise appearance of a young Stanford coed who testified she had heard Aroff ask gifts of two newly commissioned ensigns, the trial neared the climatic testimony of Tony Martin, former screen star

Aroff is accused of "corruptly" asking and receiving a $950 automobile from Martin as a "fee" for facilitating his appointment as a navy chief specialist. Martin is now manager of the navy theater at adjacent Treasure Island.

The blonde and pretty girl witness, Patricia I. Bouchard, whose home is in Beverly Hills, created a stir in the court room atop the island, sharply contrasting with the solemnity of the proceedings and austerity of the six-man court of veteran, gray-haired officers.

Some Graf Spee Fugitives May Be On U-Boats

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 30—German sailors from the scuttled Nazi pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee today are believed to be serving aboard some of the Axis submarines which are waging unrestricted warfare against United Nations shipping in the gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean.

Reports have been received in official quarters in Washington indicating that some members of the Graf Spee's crew who escaped from internnment in Argentina are serving aboard German submarines on this side of the Atlantic.

It is believed the escaped German sailors probably were taken aboard Axis submarines at a secret rendezvous in South American waters. The reports indicate that after escaping from internment in Argentina, the sailors contacted Axis agents who helped them reach the submarines.

Nearly 200 members of the Graf Spee's crew are reported to have escaped from Argentina internment camps. Fifty-six escaped before the internees were transferred from the mainland to Garcia island. At least 198 are reported to have escaped from the island. However, it is not thought that all of them managed to board Axis submarines. Some are still believed to be at large in Argentina or nearby countries.

PHOTOGRAPHERS ARE VICTIMS IN CRASH

(International News Service)

VICTORVILLE, Calif., July 30—Two twin-engined bombardment training planes, with a group of Los Angeles newspapermen and army officers aboard, collided in mid-air over Lucerne Dry Lake late last night, killing a civilian photographer and a sergeant pilot, military authorities announced early today.

Another civilian photographer was reported missing.

The body of Staff Sergeant Rodney H. Grim, 20, of Opheim, Mont., was identified. Another body was found in the wreckage but it was unidentified.

Others aboard the plane were Frank Filan, 37, Associated Press photographer, of Los Angeles, and Clarence L. Block, 29, civilian employe of the west coast army air force training center at Santa Ana, also of Los Angeles.

Second Lieutenant Russell L. pilot of the second plane, ordered his two crew members to bail out and then managed to guide his crippled ship to the army field where he made an emergency landing. He was unhurt.

Captain William R. Hulbuh, medical officer, and Second Lieutenant Raymond W. Sullivan, bombardier, returned to the field uninjured after parachuting from the plane.

The plane piloted by Grim crashed in Lucerne Valley, 10 miles from its base at Victorville. The collision occurred during what was described as a routine flight. The newspapermen and photographer involved were part of a group touring air force establishments in California and Nevada.

SAARBRUECKEN R. A. F. TARGET IN BOMB RAID

British Press Association said it is believed that the results obtained by the R. A. F. were "very good." There appeared to be little question that the damage was considerably heavier at Saarbruecken than the comparatively small Nazi Luftwaffe force inflicted on Birmingham, target of a German attack last Monday.

Seven of the German raiders were destroyed, the air ministry said.

New damage was done to Birmingham and a number of casualties inflicted, including some fatalities, it was revealed.

Renew Attacks

While the R. A. F. squadrons which blasted Saarbruecken, on the border fo France 49 miles northeast of Metz, and other towns in western Germany, more British planes went into the air to cross the channel at 3 a. m. for attacks on occupied France.

Explosions heard from the French coast indicated the assault on Nazi bases there was heavy. The powerful and sustained blasts from the falling British bombs shook buildings on the English coast.

In addition to raiding Birmingham for the second time in three nights the Luftwaffe conducted widespread sorties over other parts of England, including the outskirts of London.

The German assaults on England were centered on the Midlands and West Midlands. "Strong Luftwaffe squadrons" made the attacks, according to Berlin.

Other raiders attacked northwest England and East Anglia.

London had its 585th air alert as a result of the Luftwaffe attacks. Bombs were dropped in one district of the London area and incendiaries fell in the surrounding home counties.

Two hospitals were struck in the Midlands areas.

Planes attacking the West Midlands, site of the large industrial city of Birmingham which was attacked Monday night, flew in from the north and dropped high explosives.

RESISTANCE OF SOVIET TROOPS IS STIFFENING

need of Stalin's message emphasizing the country's grave peril. There were continued German advances and a new enemy crossing of the Don east of Rostov.

But every foot of the ground was paid for dearly and the Russians gave way fighting.

When one group of German tanks and infantry made a desperate charge and penetrated the Soviet lines to reach the Don, Russian aviation immediately bombed the enemy formations, scattering them and enabling Soviet tanks to attack.

Nazi tanks and infantry then were forced to retreat from the river banks. At last reports, the battle was continuing on a wide front in the bend of the Don, with populated points changing hands several times.

Finnish Brigade Enters

The Germans sent a Finnish brigade of five battalions into battle at one point to support an enemy tank attack. The drive failed and the Finns left 200 killed before they were driven back.

At nightfall, the Finns repeated the attack. The Russians allowed them to come within close range and then opened fire against the first and second columns. This assault also failed and more than 500 Finns were killed.

On another sector of this circular front the Germans heavily bombed the Soviet lines and then launched a tank attack, sending three successive waves of men into battle before breaking through and penetrating to the Soviet rear.

Eenemy infantry which followed the machines was nearly wiped out, but small units got through and reached the Don before being compelled to retreat.

Seek To Reach Stalingrad

In the Klatskaya area, the Germans were trying to reach the Don opposite Stalingrad at any price. Enemy casualties were heavy as tanks, artillery and planes swept into action over a front 70 miles long. Even cavalry units were employed in sweeping charges over the flat steppes.

The Germans followed their usual tactics of concentrating a large group of tanks in one place and trying to advance along a narrow strip. Soviet forces put out their maximum efforts, hammering the tiring enemy ceaselessly and trying to effect a halt before any major numbers reach the Don.

There was a constant flow of Nazi reinforcements from other sectors, however, and the army newspaper Red Star frankly admitted that the situation south and east of Rostov, where the Germans were reported advancing along the left bank of the river, is "most dangerous." New Soviet withdrawals were made in the Bataisk area.

Southwest of Klatskaya, within the curve formed by the Don opposite Stalingrad, the enemy reached the river at one point but was driven back by a Soviet flank attack after a terrific tank battle.

Finnish soldiers were employed by the Russians in this area, where the fighting reached great fury, featured by hand-to-hand combat and bayonet clashes.

(Editor's Note: The German radio broadcast a claim that the town of storm with the result that the railway line connecting Stalingrad with Proletarskala had been taken by Krasnodar had been cut.)

TRIPLE SLAYING NEAR JOHNSTOWN

"drinking party." When they were ready to go home, he claimed, Saltin emerged from the cabin with two revolvers, and killed Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Kohler before turning the weapon on himself.

Motive Unknown

Pompanella said Saltin made no attempt to hurt him, and was unable to advance any motive.

Mrs. Kohler is the wife of a Johnstown street car operator. He said his wife had gone to work in a cafe last night as an "extra," and that he had expected her home shortly after 1 o'clock. He added that he knew nothing of the shootings until an early hour this morning. Mrs. Thomas' husband, who lives above the cafe in which she worked said he did not know either of the men.

Westmoreland county authorities assumed jurisdiction in the case since Seward is just inside the county line.

Police said the guns used were of .25 and .32 calibre.

They quoted Pompanella as claiming that Saltin shot Mrs. Thomas as she sat in the car, and Mrs. Kohler as she walked out of the lodge. Pompanella built the cabin three years ago for use as a hunting lodge.

street as the driver applied his brakes, and the screech of the brakes could be plainly heard. Mr. Shepp had reached the concrete where the outside track of the old street car line was located on the east side of the street, when the left front part of the machine struck him. Badger stated that the body was carried along with the car for some little distance, and then when the auto stopped the body was hurled forward about 15 to 18 feet.

Measure Distance

Sheriff Badger stated that measurement was made of the point where the first tire skid marks were seen on the street to the point where it stopped, and it was a distance of 101 feet. From the point where Mr. Shepp was struck on the north crosswalk at Norwood avenue to where the body came to rest after being hit was a distance of approximately 76 feet.

Sheriff Badger took the boy into custody and he is said to have admitted to the sheriff that he was going from 40 to 45 miles per hour, but Badger said he judged that Mulcahy was going faster than this rate of speed. He said that if Mulcahy had been on the right side of the street, coming south, that he could have avoided hitting Mr. Shepp.

Other witnesses who testified included Luther Earl Shaffer of Highland avenue, Robert J. Book of Quest street, driver of the bus; Joseph Rung of Lakewood; Joseph Kirkwood of 1617 Highland avenue, and G. F. Thornton of 1701 Highland avenue, all of whom saw incidents in connection with the collision.

The jury which heard the evidence was composed of Clark H. Buell, Henry Robinson, John Williams, C. E. Allen, George Goff and Frank Hunter.

trail of heavy smoke indicated it had been seriously damaged by a direct hit.

Relays of Allied planes shuttled over the narrow tip of New Guinea to bomb the Japanese base established last week in the Gona-Buna area, 100 miles from the United Nations base at Port Moresby on the southeastern shore of the island.

Blast Supplies

Food stores, ammunition dumps and anti-aircraft batteries were blasted in the unrelenting attacks. Huge bomb craters marked the hastily constructed airfield. But Japanese zero fighter planes, probably based at Lae and Salamau, 120 miles northwest, continued to give opposition to the Allied bombers.

One enemy plane was reported shot down.

Fifty miles inland on the jungle trail over the Owen Stanley mountain range Allied patrols skirmished with Japanese spearheads driving towards Port Moresby.

A series of clashes was reported for possession of a vital village controlling a pass leading to Port Moresby. The Allied forces suffered some casualties in this action, the communique said.

The Japanese continued their raids on Port Moresby and the Australian mainland, but without effective results. Three attacks on Port Moresby, each carried out by flights of three Navy bombers, were beaten off by anti-aircraft fire Wednesday night.

Two small bomber formations raided Port Darwin. There were no casualties and only slight damage.

The land fighting in New Guinea was reported taking place in the "No Man's Land" in the area between Kokoda and the enemy positions to the East.

Lieut. Col. W. T. Owen of the Australian army, who was mortally wounded while leading his men against the enemy in the Kokoda sector was awarded the distinguished service cross today for gallantry in action.

He was the first Australian to receive a U. S. decoration in this war.

RECKLESS DRIVING CHARGE

Mayor Charles B. Mayne today in police court fined Harry Weatherby, formerly of this city, now of Ohio, $100 following his conviction upon a charge of reckless driving. City police arrested the youth while he was driving allegedly recklessly in Long avenue vicinity. In default of payment Weatherby was committed to jail for 90 days.

CABIN TAKES FIRE

City firemen were called to Bailey's auto camp, on Butler avenue, at 4:45 o'clock Wednesday afternoon when some children playing nearby are believed to have set fire to one of the cabins. The loss was not extensive.

"Beat Me Daddies" Capture Volleyball Tilt At Y Camp

Opening games in the baseball and volleyball leagues at Camp Fred L. Rentz turned out to be tense and colorful affairs. The Blue Eagles fell before Jackson's Jerks in the baseball tilt only after a battle that had the whole camp cheering. The Beat Me Daddies dropped the Indians in volleyball.

The afternoon was spent with pick-up ball games and hiking. Bob Johnson and Bob England led the younger boys on a long hike down the banks of the beautiful Slippery Rock creek. Swimming followed and by then the boys were plenty hungry. They tore into a supper which only cooks like Mr. Leis and Mrs. Studebaker could prepare.

Capture the flag followed and Captian Jack "Turtle Hunter" Sweesy's team came out victorious. Treasure hunting over a course laid by Ken Scheppele and Bob Johnson saw the Traedwell-Ray cabin crowned the best hunters.

The Diamond That Men Fought and Died For!
THE REGENT
Discovered in 1701 in the Parteal Mines of India, the Regent Diamond has survived many stirring incidents. Found by a slave who slashed his leg to hide this 119-carat monster, it passed into the possession of Sir Thomas Pitt whose very life was often attempted. Hidden in the French Revolution, it was later found buried in a ditch on the Avenue des Champs-Elysees, in Paris, and later worn by Napoleon in his sword hilt. In recent years, the Regent was the prize possession of the French Government and was given the honored position at the Louvre in Paris.

Sixty Years Of Service

FRED L. RENTZ, President of The News Company, today marks the sixtieth anniversary of service with The News Company.

Sixty years with any one concern in continuous service ordinarily would be a record that would speak eloquently without need of embellishment.

And, from the standpoint referred to, it is overwhelmingly true in the case of Mr. Rentz.

But, a little disgression in the way of added tribute and acclaim appears to be justified in this instance.

Probably Mr. Rentz has no competitor for honors in the newspaper profession in the nation today in the matter of a record for continuous and effective service with one newspaper.

In Mr. Rentz's case it has been actual active service over the entire period of years. Starting as a lowly printer's devil, by sheer merit he ascended to the top rung in the space of a few years; and for many years has been the directing spirit guiding the destiny of this newspaper.

How successful and effective his efforts have been is reflected in the success which has attended the year by year development from a small struggling paper, to the recognized modern and progressive newspaper that it has become.

Mr. Rentz would claim no monopoly of credit for the success of this newspaper. He attributes it to the loyalty of the community, to efforts of those associated with him; and to public appreciation of his honest efforts to give New Castle an increasingly better newspaper.

Honesty of purpose, support of things that are right; welfare of the growing city of New Castle always, unswerving support of the city's institutions, industries, business, and ambitions; these are but a few of the ideals that have been emphasized through the years as uppermost aims of both Mr. Rentz and The News.

On this sixtieth anniversary, we would deem that it is gratifying for Mr. Rentz to survey the results of his newspaper efforts of past years; realize that he is today a most vital, active force in the accomplishment; and is holding steadfast in the purpose that there shall be no deviation from the lofty ideals that have been the guiding beacons of this newspaper.

We of The News Family, many entitled to be called veterans, are justly proud of any little part that we may have contributed toward development and progress of The News under the able guidance and inspiration of Fred L. Rentz.

Congratulations and felicitations are heartily given to the head of this newspaper, on this occasion; and along with them expression of an appreciation of the privilege that has been ours to be of service in Mr. Rentz's satistying achievement —The New Castle News.

WAR'S CRITICAL PHASE

It is apparent now that the Nazi intention in Russia is unalterably to drive through to the Caspian Sea, cut the oil pipelines which are supplying Russia's northern and central armies, sever communications between north and south Russia and then strike toward the oil fields of the Caucasus. The almost total Nazi concentration in the south and the lack of any vigorous offensive in the north tips off the Hitler hand. He is no longer driving for Moscow but for oil.

There are three main Russian oil pipelines, one from the Caspian to the Black Sea, another from the Caspian to Rostov and beyond and a third from the northern reaches of the Caspian up the Ural River Valley to the northeast. By continuing his south-eastward course Hitler could shut off the oil lines from the Caspian westward and presumably would rely upon air power to prevent Russian tankers on the Caspian from serving the third oil line from the north and east.

There is still a lot of difficult territory to be traversed at great cost before any such objective can be attained. There are marsh lands and Caucasus mountains between Hitler and his objectives. If Timoshenko has fresh armies to throw into the fray, they will undoubtedly engage the Nazis before long. Russia's defensive campaign is entering its critical phase.

Reports of stiffening opposition will mean that Russia has not been using all of its power but has been withholding reserves for a critical time. That time seems to be in the immediate days ahead.

ARMY CHUCK

A survey of Army food shows that the American soldier is the best fed in the world. He has no sugar ration card, coffee and tea shortages do not trouble him, high price of pork chops is of no concern and he is to have a corner on the canned fish market in the future. Any canned fish left over will go to civilians, and that is likely to be very little.

In Army camps only fresh foods are served. A typical weekday dinner consists of roast pork, sweet potatoes, spinach, lettuce, tomatoes, bread, butter, apple pie a la mode and coffee. When the soldier is removed from kitchen facilities emergency rations are prepared which can be served either hot or cold.

The extreme field ration is a "parataion," so called because it is intended for parachute troops. It consists of highly concentrated food packed into three boxes—breakfast, dinner and supper. These three boxes weigh two pounds and contain 3,726 calories. An average man requires 3,000 calories a day.

The Army food laboratory at Chicago is making rapid progress in dehydration of foods which not only removes bulk in a combat soldier's mess but saves shipping space. Even meats are being dehyprated, taking the place of canned meats which proved unsatisfactory in past wars.

Storage facilities in the United States are overflowing with the nation's greatest wheat glut. The hopelessness of trying to steal it must burn up Hitler.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TEACH CHILD USE OF MONEY

Don't let loose change lie about the house. The baby, finding it, plays with it as with toys. He discovers, by and by, that he can purchase sweets with it. Long before he learns the meaning of theft, he may have been spending money which he finds.

When you buy small things like an ice cream cone for the child of four or five, give him the money and let him purchase it. Better work out with him in the early stages of his spending the day or days of each week or month when he may spend. Then see that he is held strictly to this program.

Once he gets the notion that there are only a few and certain days when he may spend, you can gradually lead him to spend his money over a period of time, say a week. Such an allowance should begin only when he is ready to take responsibility for it. For the child of school age it includes current supplies, lunches, car fares and a very small amount which the child can spend about as he chooses just as soon as he has learned to spend with some discretion.

Here is a scheme we worked out with our children. They were eight and 10, respectively. They were asked to keep, during the first two weeks of school, an account of those expenditures which were likely to be constant for the term, and to make at the end of two weeks an itemized budget of what they would need each week during the half-year. This was to include a specified amount as savings, school supplies (pencils, paper, etc.), school lunches, bus fares, recreation, Sunday school money, and a small amount for luxuries. Their budgets, which we found surprisingly conservative, were approved.

Each Monday morning they were given their week's allowance. They understood they would be given no more money during the week.

When unexpected needs for money, such as subscription to the school paper, arose, it was supplied. They were urged not to lend or borrow. It worked. They got along on the allowance.

They were not asked to render an itemized report, but were urged to keep one for themselves. We did not want to tempt them to juggle their accounts. When they got the money it was theirs. Extra money which they earned they were urged to put into saving, or to lay aside to grow into a sum large enough to buy something worthwhile. However, they reserved the final choice of its expenditure.

The World and the Mud Puddles

AMERICAN HISTORY

Like many other public men, Justice Robert H. Jackson has been deeply impressed by the results of a New York Times survey showing that large numbers of students graduate from college without having a single course in United States history.

In an address before the Texas Bar Association, the justice called this seeming indifference toward American history an "ominous symptom of waning vigor of American democracy." He made an extremely persuasive appeal for a revival of interest in the study of our own past as a preparation for dealing intelligently with the problems of the present and future. "History is to a people," he said, "what memory is to an individual. It calls to the aid of present judgment, the accumulations of past experience."

While Justice Jackson lashed out rather severely—and in our opinion with undue harshness — against those who oppose the required study of history, he admitted that a mere requirement that colleges teach history, is not enough. The real danger that we must fight is apatay—lack of interest at the college stage of education in the development of our institutions.

That deadening apathy is itself often a product of bad teaching in the elementary schools. It is not going to be overcome by what Justice Jackson calls a "self-serving shallow nationalism that belittles the accomplishments of other peoples." Belief in the ideals of our people will be more firmly rooted, as he points out, by honest and critical courses in American history which do not gloss over mistakes and deficiencies or overemphasize achievements. In short, we want to know ourselves, not to arouse unthinking enthusiasms. For, as the speaker said, there is "little reason to believe that a people with no knowledge of its own history will have much capacity to direct its own destiny."

On one occasion when Queen Victoria was making a journey to Balmoral, a gentleman in Perth, who had a magnificent vinery, sent a basket of his finest hothouse grapes to be handed, with his compliments, into the royal carriage. The Queen not only accepted them, but wrote from Balmoral complimenting the gentleman on the singular excellence of his fruit.

The gentleman knew how proud his gardener would be at such a compliment . . . and from the Queen . . . so he took the note down to the vinery and handed it to him to read, saying: "There, Jock, that's from the Queen."

The gardener took the note, read it slowly and carefully, and after a reflective pause, said to his master: "She didna say onythin' aboot sendin' back the basket."

THOSE WHO DO NOT SMOKE

"I never smoke, because I think it is a disgusting habit. Nevertheless, I am frequently in the company of both men and women who do. Whenever I am offered a cigaret, I say, 'I don't smoke.' Can you suggest a more polite method of refusal? Or do you think my way is all right?"—Anne

Answer: It all depends upon your attitude and the tone of voice in which you say, "I don't smoke." You are privileged to refuse offered cigarets, but do it graciously that you may not give the impression of disapproval. Say "No thank you," or "I don't care for one just now." Do not act shocked or disapproving. Appear as if you think nothing of it. Intolerant people are never popular. If you refuse politely, I see no reason why anyone should be offended.

Hull's Post-War World Is Fine Idea Greeted With Acclaim In Allied Area
Age Of Sponsor Is Not In Its Favor

By SHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, July 30.—State Secretary Cordell Hull's recent world-wide broadcast apropos the war and the kind of peace he hopes for, as a sequel to it, appears to have made a highly favorable impression of international proportions—though of course not including the Axis powers.

Comment from countries in arms against the totalitarians naturally greeted it immediately as a masterpiece. Folk in the areas that the Germans, Japanese and Italians have overrun are quoted similarly in so far as they're able to express themselves. Dispatches from neutral sources also generally expressed approval of the American cabinet chief's utterances.

A few guesses are hazarded to the effect that the talk can't have been without its appeal also to a good many Italians, who are well known to be unenthusiastic over Duce Mussolini's alignment with Fuehrer Hitler.

An occasional voice suggests also that the speech may have made a few converts among enlightened Germans, assuming a sprinkling of them to be left in the Fatherland, where there once was quite a liberal element of yore. Nobody is very hopeful concerning the Japs, however. It's the pretty solid consensus that their militarists will have to be completely extinguished to quiet them. Still, that wouldn't be such a chore, with the Germans disposed of.

Secretary Hull's address was no surprise to anyone at all familiar with his long career in congress and at the head of the state department.

An Internationalist

In the best sense, Hull always has been an ideal internationalist. This is not to say that he has been anything but a true blue American. His aim, though, has been the establishment of the friendlist sort of relations between and among the whole world's peoples. Creation of them, by means of his widely advertised "reciprocal treaties", was the nub of the policy he had in mind as chief of President Roosevelt's foreign affairs office. He made a good start at it, to—and then along came overseas totalitarianism, culminating in the war, knocking his program kiting.

Nevertheless, Cordell's trying to get back to it, as a post-war development.

It is an economic proposition mainly. The secretary plans a world court and an international policing system to enforce its mandates and suppress a possibly occasional outbreak of global outlawry, like the present one, but his essential notion is to make mundane life so pleasant and all-around profitable that nobody will want to do any fighting—just as you don't fight with your next door neighbor —and, if anybody does start a fight, he is a criminal and the whole neighborhood squelches him in short order.

There is just one flaw in this program.

Secretary Hull might be able to put it across. He has remarkable ability and boundless enthusiasm. He'd toiled tirelessly for his objective in congress and went right ahead with his work in the cabinet, but his difficulty was that he didn't get into the cabinet quite soon enough; the world-wide explosion popped before he could get fairly started on realization of his scheme.

A New Start

Now he'll have to begin again when this war is over.

Hull has a lot of experience. He will know how to go about it. If he made any previous mistakes, he will understand how to correct them. He can point morals to burn.

Unfortunately he is 71 years old.

Will Hull survive this war if it is a long one? And, even if he does, will he continue to have the stamina to reorganize the world on the basis he argues for?

If not, will there be anybody to succeed him adequately?

That is the hades of wars, as they follow one another.

A country gets into a war. Its statesmen learn a great deal about how to prevent them from ever getting into another one. But they pass from the scene before the next one eventuates.

Take 1962!

Who'll have any personal recollection of this year?

There will be huge improvements in armaments and things, but how about improvements in international human nature? This is the meanest war we've had yet, isn't it? But we're going to have no more, what?

Subsequent Hitlers and Mussolinis and Hirohitos will be internationally pinched and chucked in the hoosegow before they get started, hey?

Well, will there be any Cordell Hull to attend to it?

Believe me, I don't know!

FIRST LESSON

Teach the little chap to say:
"I'm American, I am!"
Start him off this very day:
"I belong to Uncle Sam!"

Let his hand salute the flag
Every time it passes by;
Never let devotion lag
Or his love of country die.

Let him learn it at the start.
Teach him early; freedom's best.
Never chill his patriot heart
With a sneer or with a jest.

Keep this always uppermost:
Love of God and liberty
Are to be his proudest boast
Wheresoever he may be.

LOOKING AT LIFE

—By Erich Brandeis

So you think you are having trouble with your draft board?

They won't defer you just because you have a couple of dependents?

Well, if a fellow with 61 dependents—who is only 5 feet 2 inches, at that—is classified in 1-A, you better give up and get ready to leave with the next shipment.

You heard of Billy Rose, the little fellow who puts on those big shows?

On his draft questionnaire the following dependents were claimed:

Eleanor Holm, his wife; his father, a sister and three uncles. Through some error 55 employes of his Diamond Horseshoe Cabaret were listed as his dependents also.

The draft board drew its breath when it saw the list, but decided that maybe all those dependents might become independent if Billy went to war.

When reached at his palatial estate, "Rosenholm," the impresario indignantly denied that he had any idea of avoiding the draft.

But he must have figured that a man who is contributing to the support of 61 people is a patriot even if there isn't any war.

Maybe he will appeal the board's decision, maybe he won't.

At any rate, it once again brings up the question how a man can do the most good for his country.

With a gun, a fellow like Billy Rose can fire only one shot at a time.

With a paycheck he can fire 61.

Billy Rose dead is only another dead soldier. Billy Rose alive is not only a good provider, but he helps us to keep up our morale, he buys bonds and stamps, he gives employment and enjoyment.

It is the function of the draft board to get men for the draft.

But the board should also remember that to win a war we need not only the man with the gun but the man behind the gun as well.

A Molotov cocktail is a bottle—any kind of a bottle—filled with gasoline—any kind of gasoline.

Thrown as a grenade it does as much damage as a chrome-plated, hand-polished, government inspected shell.

If there is one thing we can learn from the Russians it's the kind of simplicity which turns an old bottle and a pint of gasoline into a respectable weapon.

No months were consumed on the drafting board on the Molotov cocktail, no million dollar fees were paid to commission agents to land a contract to make it, no pompous production figures were issued on it and there wasn't even a jurisdictional dispute over its manufacture.

Some guy in a fur hat just poured a little gas into a bottle, corked it up and tossed it at a German tank and the tank blew up.

Thought for the day—It was as simple as that.

Giant Air Raid Siren Barely Emits Whisper

(International News Service)

SPARTANSBURG, S. C.—An air raid siren that can't be heard would be a liability in the event enemy bombers came over, and Spartanburg civil defense officials have decided that if the company which sold them the $450, 7-horse-powered "wildcat" can't make it work, it can take it back and refund the city the money.

Accordingly, a committee has been appointed to see if the siren can be made effective, and, if not, to demand that the city is refunded the money paid for it.

When the siren was purchased, the company told defense officials it had been approved by the army. First it was placed atop the 3-story city hall building, but it could hardly be heard through the city's business area.

Later, it was installed on top of an 8-story office building, and while the warning signal carried farther, it still could not be heard in numerous sections of the city.

Huge Tonnage Of Axis Shipping Is Claimed To Date

(International News Service)

LONDON, July 30.—A total of 6,178,681 tons of German and Italian shipping has been captured, sunk or damaged by British action up to June 30, the admiralty announced today.

This figure it was explained, does not include losses inflicted on the Axis by the Russians. Soviet forces had accounted for an estimated 750,000 tons.

The total also exludes 44 Italian and German vessels aggregating 256,079 tons tied up in Central and South American ports.

Tourist Town Hit Doubly By War

(International News Service)

RATON, N. M., July 30—The war is going to hit Raton doubly hard. In addition to the certainty that part of its highly profitable tourist business will be lost because of tire rationing, this small northern New Mexico community, just beyond the Colorado border, faces the prospect of losing its Colorado "wedding crop."

This crop is worth an estimated $25,000 annually to Raton, basing the estimate on 1,435 Colorado marriages performed here in 1941.

AIR RAID WARNING STATION

The Aircraft Warning Post which has been functioning at Volant for some time has been transferred to New Wilmington, and Jacob Bumgardner has been named assistant observer in charge of the local post. John Merritt, of Volant, is chief observer for the vicinity.

Reason for the change was the fact that New Wilmington is in a better situation for scanning the skies.

The post is being established on the roof of the tower of Westminster College's main building. An 8-foot square shelter is being built, and a telephone is being installed. Watchers will call army headquarters in Pittsburgh immediately upon spotting any plane except the training planes which frequent the vicinity, and report such date as type, direction of flight, number, etc.

Mr Bumgardner is issuing a call for local people to volunteer as watchers. "We want to have 160 watchers," he said, "in order to establish a system of two-hour watches per week per person, with two people always on watch."

The local watch began yesterday.

Blackout Alarm

Local defense officials announce that, beginning now, both the fire and college sirens will be used to sound the blackout alarm. Some difficulty in hearing the college siren has been experienced.

At a meeting of the local defense council, W. S. McKean was elected commander-in-chief of the control room

No wilful violations during last week's blackout were reported. W. F. Campbell, local defense council chairman, praised the cooperative spirit of the community.

TO COLLECT SCRAP

At the regular weekly meeting of the local Kiwanis club, the members discussed plans for the club's monthly collection of scrap material, which will be held next Thursday.

All members present signed up to act as observers at the Aircraft Warning Post which is being set up on the roof of the college tower. The Kiwanians took over the watching job last night, the first night the post was in operation.

NEW JOURNALISM HEAD

Frank R. Briggs, a graduate of Terre Haute State Teachers' College, Terre Haute, Indiana, has been engaged as teacher of journalism and head of the News Bureau at Westminster College, it is announced. Briggs succeeds Robert Murphy, who resigned to take up a post at the University of Syracuse

It is also announced that Wayne Christy, '38, has been appointed instructor in Bible. Christy graduated from Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological Seminary last year, and has studied at Duke University.

CHURCH PICNIC

The annual picnic of Neshannock Presbyterian church will be held this afternoon at the Community Park. Committee members for the picnic are George Fulkman, Frances Thompson, Martha Byers, Ruth Sewall, Gordon Pitzer, Ralph Shawkey, Kenneth Wilson, John Semple and William Evans.

ROTARY MEETING

Speaker at the regular weekly meeting of New Wilmington's Rotarians was Raymond Meek, who gave a talk on "The Story of the Telegraph."

The speaker, who is a former telegraph operator, gave a discussion of the development of the telegraph since its invention by Samuel F. B. Morse, and told of the contributions of Marconi, Bell and others. Mr. Meek is now engaged in teaching the Morse code to the Army and Navy men who are studying at Westminster College.

Former President Howard Temple received a past-president's pin at the meeting. Guests were J. E. Thompson and Ensign Floyd Whitman.

Next week, a joint meeting with the Kiwanians will be held. A quiz program is to be featured, with Maxwell Kelso and Earl Black as masters of ceremonies.

PICNIC EVENT

About 65 attended the annual No. 8 picnic held recently, including former teachers, Mrs. Olive Hoagland, Mrs Alonza Hope, Miss Lois Bell, Mrs. Erma Watson, Miss Lucille Artman, and Mrs. Mary Sewall.

Ed Sewall was named president for the coming year.

CONFERENCE SPEAKERS

A number of prominent speakers and leaders will be present at the 37th annual New Wilmington Missionary conference of the U. P. church, which is to be held from August 7 to Aupgust 15.

The speakers include Julia Kellersberger, authoress; Dr. Charles E. Scott, Presbyterian missionary to China; Dr. Thmoas C. Pollock, moderator of the U. P. church; Dr. Will Orr, and Dr. Robert Smith.

Approximately 40 missionaries from Egypt, India, the Soudan, and Ethiopia are expected to be present. These include: Mrs. Charles S. Stewart, Miss Lillian A. McConnell and Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Kelsey, all of New Castle; and Miss Mary Jane McKnight, of Ellwood City.

Tent leaders at Camp Suegin, which houses the conference's male delegates, include Rev. Matthew Gilliland and Rev. Lowrie Anderson, both former residents of New Wilmington. Rev. Gilliland is camp manager. Mrs. Gilliland will be a girls' counsellor.

GRANGE PAGEANT

At the last regular meeting of Wilmington Grange, Lecturer C. W. Beerbower called for volunteers to take part in a pageant which the grange will give on the neighborhood night of October 5 at Mahoning Grange. Mr. Beerbower is planning the presentation of a pageant depicting the history of the early settlements of Western Pennsylvania.

Work on the interior of the hall is progressing nicely, it is reported, and should be completed by Monday. Initiation of new candidates for the 1st and 2nd degrees is scheduled for the next meetinng. Routine business concluded the meeting.

Shipyard Worker Invents Device To Help Beat Hitler

(International News Service)

OAKLAND, Cal.—Time and labor saving devices invented by ordinary workmen are not only helping to make the shipyards at Richmond, Cal., among the fastest in the country but are aiding immeasurably in bringing more grief to the Axis.

The latest invention reported by the shipyard management is the result of the ingenuity of Jim Wall, a flanker's helper of Oakland, Cal.

Wall has invented a simple rig which takes kinks out of steel plates in a minimum amount of time. Prior to his invention, bumps and kinks in steel fittings were ironed out by heating and laboriously beating with sledge hammers.

Wall used a hydraulic jack hammer in conjunction with a rig that straightened out the kinks without heating. His invention has been adapted on all the assemblies in the yard.

ATTRACTION OF OPPOSITES

(International News Service)

SALINAS, Cal.—Private Francis B. Zimmer of Albany, N. Y., who boasts the modest height of 6 ft. 9 ins., is a nightly visitor at the USO club here along with his buddy, Pvt. Attlee Coleman of Canton, O., who just touches 5 feet.

New Type Bolt Will Speed Work In Shipbuilding

(International News Service)

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—John O. Phelps, Mare Island Navy Yard employe at Vallejo, is the inventor of a new type of construction bolt, said by authorities at the yard to surpass in many ways the type of bolt now used to construct and repair ships so vital to the national war program.

Phelps explained that instead of the ordinary head of a bolt, he has invented a "lock member" which takes its place. The member, one of two identical pieces, fits securely into a notch below the tapered head of the bolt.

"A quick tap of the workman's hammer, or any piece of metal, releases the bolt and saves valuable time ordinarily used in unscrewing the nut by wrench," he said.

"By the time a workman yells for a wrench to fit a certain nut, he could knock loose a dozen of these locking-members. These lock members fit six different types of bolts, being notched for various sizes.

"Instead of the workman on the other side of the plate carrying many sizes of nuts, one would do. Bolts and lock members could be used over and over, more than 2,000 times, instead of the present rate of three or four.

AROUND CITY HALL

Theres' an art in manipulating finance, decorating dishware, the fashion in which one wears his cravat, and in corraling vicious dogs. This was demonstrated yesterday at police headquarters. A dog which growled, showed its teeth and threatened anyone who went near the jail cell was "pie" for the dog catcher, Jack Young, colored. While a group of bluecoats stood silent, expecting John to be attacked, he walked into the cell, looked the vicious animal in the eye, dropped a noose around its head and the capture was made without any of his flesh being lacerated by the dog's fangs.

Incidentally the dog-catcher yet has Tag, the police dog which some years ago was accused by citizens of being a dog love pirate—a seducer. It was reported that Young would take Tag to some section, let him loose and when Tag saw another dog he would make goo-goo or dog-eyes at said friend and after coaxing the animal from a porch, Young would ensnare said dog. Young always denied the charge. However, whenever any canines try to escape from the pound Tag chases them, bowls 'em over and holds 'em down. Young reports Tag is getting old. Had he desired he could have sold Tag to the movies.

Businessmen who enclose parking violation tickets in an envelope and expect customers to be excused do not understand the routine at police headquarters. The mayor has stated repeatedly that every violator stands upon his own and no proxy can win leniency. . . . Someone in the city will have his troubles eating corn on the cob. The said person is he or she who lost false teeth in Cascade street. The molars are at police station . . . D. O. Davies, director of the city OCD has not yet secured a siren but hopes to try one out soon, providing he can get the type he deems needed here.

It is expected that the new bridge across the Big Run at Cascade Park will be erected at the close of the picnic season . . . Superintendent C. C. Coulthard believes that with warm weather Monday, more than 800 kiddies will bathe in the pool. That number cooled off last Monday . . . Pete Brown, shoeshine and magazine merchant, today inquired if it would not be more feasible to use white brick for safety passageways across Washington street than paint white lines which are worn off by travel. This tip for Lieutenant Jones.

Frank Sargent is the chief air raid warden for the city. He has been shifted from duty at the fire department to city hall to handle those duties. There are hundreds of air raid wardens. Up to the present, Police Chief W. G. McMullen has been handling auxiliary police. They have met several times . . . Quarterly conference of Western Pennsylvania police was held this afternoon in city hall.

When they talk to the President, the bricklayer is more at ease than the prominent citizen. He has nothing to lost or gain.

Will Vacation At Ocean Grove

Rev. and Mrs. Thomas J. Jones, of the First Congregational church, East Reynolds street, expect to leave Monday morning, for Ocean Grove, New Jersey, where they will spend a month's vacation.

During the pastor's absence, the following guest speakers will occupy the pulpit, on the following Sundays, August 9, Rev. Raymond Touvell, of the Bessemer Presbyterian church; August 16, Miss Harriet Thomas, this city; August 23, Rev. William A. Lloyd, of Leesburg Presbyterian church; August 30, Captain and Mrs. Carl Andreason, of the Salvation Army.

friends. Tonight in the Cathedral he will be tendered a testimonial dinner which will be attended exclusively by the "family" of the New Castle News.

Born In Croton

Fred L. Rentz was born in Croton, March 12, 1868, the son of John Veit Rentz and Catherine Fehler Rentz. As a boy he attended the Reynoldstown school and later his parents moved to Shenango township, where they resided on a farm.

To the Rentz home often came Wick Wood, a reporter on the young and struggling New Castle News. Wood liked sauerkraut and Mrs. Rentz was known for the quality of the sauerkraut she made. He suggested one day when he visited the Rentz, that he would try and get young Fred a job on the News, learning the printing trade and on July 30, 1882 he fulfilled his promise.

When word came to him, young Rentz was in the wheat fields of Sylvester Sage near Moravia and came into the News from the fields, legs scratched with wheat stubble, face and legs tanned with the summer sun.

Started As "Devil"

He was given the menial job of "printer's devil" and his work was to sweep out the press room, wash the ink rolls and perform the other tasks common to a newspaper plant.

The News at that time was a tiny newspaper. It had been started on September 11, 1880 by George Edward Treadwell, an attorney and business man of the city who furnished the money and George W. Shaw, William Bannon, and Jefferson Reynolds, three printers.

On July 30, 1882 when Mr. Rentz started, "Colonel" Louis Thompson was the manager of the plant and B. F. Butler was the foreman of the composing room. In 1891 B. F. Butler left the News to engage in the clothing business and Mr. Rentz, by now a compositor, was made foreman to replace Mr. Butler.

In 1896 Mr. Treadwell, the owner, died, and after some deliberation Mr. Rentz was made manager of the plant and part owner. The paper was in financial straits, bankruptcy was an ever present threat and operating the paper called for courage and a stout heart.

From Then On Up

From 1896 the paper began to move upwards. By 1923 the paper had to have more room and the building in which the News is now housed was built and dedicated. For many years Mr. Rentz has been the president of the News Company.

It is a far cry from the little five column, folio size News of September 11, 1880 to the present modern day paper. The News was brought to what it is today because of the resoluteness of Fred L. Rentz in the days when it seemed doomed to failure.

In the sixty years of service which Mr. Rentz observes today, he has not confined his time entirely to the newspaper field. He has discharged his duties as a citizen and few civic ventures in that time but what have had his support.

Many civic honors have come to Mr. Rentz unsolicitedly. Upon the resignation of Mayor Samuel A. Barnes, he was elected unanimously to replace him and served for a year as mayor of the city. In 1938 he was given the distinguished citizen award by his fellow citizens of New Castle. Westminster College made him a Doctor of Humane Letters," and the Delta Sigma Phi fraternity of Westminster College made him an honorary member years ago. The Lions Club of New Castle and the Veterans of Foreign Wars have had his name enrolled as an honorary member for many years and over a year ago the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite conferred its highest honor upon him, that of a 33rd degree Mason.

When the Rotary Club was organized in New Castle Mr. Rentz was one of the original twenty-one members and served a term as president. Today his son J. F. Rentz, and his grandson Richard E. Rentz are members of the New Castle Rotary Club along with him. His son and grandson are also associated with him on The News, J. F. Rentz is the general manager and Richard E. Rentz is a member of the advertising department.

Civic Activities

His civic activities encompass the entire sphere of such work in New Castle in the past half century. Few ventures that had for their goal the advancement of New Castle and its people but have had his hearty support. When good roads were needed for the growing automobile industry Mr. Rentz was diligent in the cause of such highways as the Perry and the Benjamin Franklin.

The building of the Pymatuning Dam was the materialization of a dream which he had nurtured for many years. Along with a number of other "visionaries" he believed the Pymatuning Swamp could be developed into a flood control project for the Shenango Valley. Between 1912 and 1927 the work was more less a labor of love but the General Assembly of 1927 took a long stride towards the dam's completion and the final steps came in 1931 when the General Assembly of 1931 provided money enough to clear the site, build the dam and the highway between Espyville, Pa., and Andover, O.

He has always been interested in boys and years ago became a supporter of the Y. M. C. A. His interest finally blossomed into Camp Fred L. Rentz on the Slippery Rock Creek, a Y. M. C. A. camp, the site of which he purchased and then had cabins erected upon. Today it is the summer mecca for hundreds of boys.

No Demonstration

Ordinarily the completion of sixty years of service with an organization would call for a public celebration. In the history of newspapers in the United States there have been but a rare few men who have achieved such a record. What observation there is today of his sixtieth anniversary is entirely against his expressed wishes. He believes that with the nation at war, this is no time for extended celebrations. Friends have dropped in at The News office all day to congratulate him, many others have written him and tonight his employes and their wives will tender him a testimonial dinner in the Cathedral at 6:30. Not an elaborate affair, just a family dinner with no ostentation, no display.

As usual Mr. Rentz is at his desk today and Hints and Dints will appear as usual tomorrow. The New Castle News has been built upon the bedrock of hard work and he sees no reason for laying off a day to celebrate 60 years of service.

Regardless of what he feels, his staff, editorial, mechanical, business and administrative departments of The News today take more than usual pride in Fred L. Rentz and his service to The New Castle News. The growth of the paper and the development of the man have been synonymous. Both started in humble circumstances and today both are leaders.

The men and women who make up the personnel of The New Castle News make no apology for their public display of their pride in Fred L. Rentz and his achievements. He has been "The Boss" for many years. There will never be another just like him.

Foresees Attempt To Bomb Points In New York State

(International News Service)

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., July 30.—Major General William N. Haskell, State Defense director, believes New York state will be bombed before the war is over.

Speaking before the New York Association of Police Chiefs, General Haskell declared that planes from aircraft carriers and even some land based bombers "can reach any point in New York state."

"We must assume the enemy will not rest until his lone-range bombers or slyly creeping plane carriers have launched destruction on the towers of Manhattan, the war-industry towns between Albany and Buffalo or upon a simple country town," General Haskell declared.

He urged more and more practise in civilian defense routine "until this ugly and dangerous war is over."

WARNING TO AUTOISTS

(International News Service)

BUTTE, Mont.—Automobilists in Montana this summer won't see so many state highway patrol cars, but they'll be there just the same.

The officers have been given the problem of doing their day's work on just half the amount of gasoline they had in the past. There will be less cruising and more parking, but the officers aren't worried. They figure the civilian motorists will be doing the same thing.

M. B. W. S. CLUB HONORS COUPLE WED JUNE 20

Members of the M. B. W. S. club were graciously entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McCormick, East Brook road, recently, when the club gathering took the form of a shower for Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McMichael, newlyweds of June 20. Mrs. McMichael is the former Miss Jean Bender.

Games furnished diversion during the evening and later, guests enjoyed a wiener roast on the lawn.

Following this, Mr. and Mrs. McMichael were invited to the dining room where they found a table laden with gifts for them to use in their new home at 829 Beckford street.

Head Of Mission Gets Erie Post

Superintendent Gibson Chosen Assistant To Famed Rev. Blackmore

Superintendent Archie W. Gibson of the City Rescue Mission today had resigned, effective September 1, to become assistant superintendent of the City Rescue Mission of Erie.

Mr. Gibson, who at one time served the Erie organization, will assume direction of all religions activities there under the leadership of Rev. C. A. Blackmore, its nationally known superintendent.

Coming here March 1, 1937, from the pastorate of the Methodist church at Kinzua, Pa., Superintendent Gibson has accomplished considerable in mission activity here.

The three-story mission building at 17 South Mercer street has been completely renovated and redecorated and the men's dormitory remodeled.

Mrs. Gibson has ably assisted her husband in the direction of the religious and welfare program of the institution.

During Mr. Gibson's superintendency, some of the nation's outstanding clergymen have been brought to New Castle for services.

It was at Erie in 1911 that Mr. Gibson first met Rev. Blackmore, and ever since he has been one of his closest friends.

The Gibsons have three sons, Harold, a private first class with the army at Providence, R. I.; Clark, a Pittsburgh commercial artist, and Robert, an art supervisor in the schools at Womelsdorf, Berks County, Pa.

Seek Volunteers To Aid Landlords

Volunteers to assist landlords in filling out registration forms showing rents charged for properties under their control, and various data concerning the properties, are being sought today by Mrs. Frances Cope of the American Legion Auxiliary. The volunteers will meet on Friday with Miss Nan Mitcheltree, supervisor for Lawrence county, and Elmer Delancey, who with a corps of assistants will train the volunteers in the work of filling out the blanks.

Rent ceilings have been placed at the level of March, and landlords here, as in other defense areas, will be forced to comply with this order.

The registration of landlords will be held in the period between August 3 and August 15, in the North street school here, in the Lincoln high school in Ellwood City, in the Plaingrove high school, and possibly in the Bessemer high school.

Tank crews are trained in our desert to harden them for the heat of Africa. It seems there isn't room to maneuver in Washington, D. C.

News Briefs From City Hall

When council convened today in city hall a proposed bill permitting street car rails to remain in several city controlled streets was repealed. According to the present status of the street car company-city deal the Duntile company will remove all rails from all city controlled streets.

Ordinances favorably reported from committee today were in brief too, that the channel lines of the Neshannock creek be changed near the United Engineering & Foundry company plant and that no carnival, circus or entertainment shall be held here unless $100 cash is placed to pay for cleaning the grounds following the show or entertainment.

City of New Castle today was requested to state in a resolution for the PUC that the city has no objection to the removal of rails in Sherman street. The P. R. R. and P. & L. E. railroads plan to remove the rails and have petitioned the PUC for such sanction. Sherman street which is in the United Engineering & Foundry company section is to be improved, it was reported.

Bids will be asked through an advertisement for the removal of a property at 610 North Ashland avenue, according to council, today.

Zoning and Planning board and representatives of civic organizations will meet with city council in the municipal building Tuesday morning to consider a revamping of the city's zoning law. It was pointed out by the zoners and planners that in view of housing needs it is impossible at present for dwellings in certain sections to be converted into duplexes and triplexes, hence the move to meet 1942 conditions.

Balph avenue residents today petioned council to pave the avenue. Clay has been removed. Stone and gravel has been placed. The residents, half of whom reside in South New Castle borough, complained strongly of the dust. They were told that it would be impossible to secure paving materials because of the avenue not leading to any defense section and therefore a priority order could not be obtained. However, they were informed to present a petition to the borough council and when the proper time came for Balph avenue to be paved action would be taken.

Farmers Must Turn In Old Parts When Securing New Ones

New Order Restricts Purchase Of Parts Unless Old One Is Exchanged

Farmers are advised by the Lawrence county USDA War Board that when they purchase replacement parts for passenger automobiles or trucks, it is now necessary for them to "turn in" the used part in order to purchase the replacement. This is in connection with the War Production Board's limitation order L-158, effective July 15, 1942.

The order restricting sales by distributors prohibits any distributor from selling or delivering any replacement part (excepting cab assemblies and parts, such as fusees, and flares which are consumed in use) to a consumer unless the consumer delivers to the distributor, at the time the purchase is made, "a used part of similar kind and size for each new replacement part delivered to such consumer." Likewise the order probihits the sale of any "new replacement part to a consumer to replace a part which the distributor can recondition by use of available reconditioning facilities."

If a part has been lost or stolen, it is pointed out, it is possible for a farmer to obtain a new part in such case by presenting a statement describing the manner in which the part was so lost or stolen.

Chairman Dorris L. Fulkman of the Lawrence County USDA War Board in commenting on the order, stated that if this order is universally observed and enforced, it will materially contribute to a steady flow of valuable and vitally needed scrap material from which new parts may be manufactured. It will go a long way to eliminate the necessity for continued scrap drives.

New Castle Keeps Lead In State

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 30.—Although retail sales by independent merchants in New Castle declined slightly last month, the city continues to show its heels to most Pennsylvania communities in the rate at which such trade has advanced thus far this year.

During June as compared with the same month last year, retail sales by independent stores declined one per cent in New Castle. They similarly fell off one per cent in Pennsylvania at large. Declines were greater in most cities than New Castle.

For the first half of 1942, New Castle sales were up 10 per cent as compared with the corresponding interval last year. This contrasted with a state-wide gain of only six per cent. Sole Pennsylvania community with a greater increase than New Castle was Wilkes-Barre, where sales climbed 13 per cent.

Rural Residents Of County Aid In Salvage Campaign

Seven Thousand Tons Of Rubber Given Up By Rural Residents Here

In a message received by Dorris L. Fulkman, chairman of the Lawrence County USDA War Board, from James E. Walker, chairman of the United States Department of Agriculture State War Board, the rural folks of Pennsylvania are credited with contributing an estimated total of 7,000 tons of scrap rubber during the recent national scrap rubber salvage campaign.

The total collected in the state from both city and rural districts, has been estimated at salvage headquarters at between 15 and 20 thousand tons. Chairman Walker praised the county farmers for their splendid effort. He said that while the farmers have responded with their usual patriotic fervor, it is necessary that everyone redouble the efforts being made to gather together all salvage scrap materials before winter sets in.

Dorris L. Fulkman, chairman of the Lawrence County USDA War Board, also praised the fine spirit that Lawrence county farmers have shown in the rubber drive, but added that the work is not finished.

"Collecting salvage material is here for the duration," he said. "We are in the scrap!"

The collection of rubber, iron and steel, and fats and oils, and other materials is being organized on a permanent basis, and farmers as well as County USDA War Boards and farm organizations will be called upon to continue their active participation in this permanent salvage campaign.

Funeral Friday For Pioneer Oil Man

Funeral services for Samuel Durbin Robison, 92, oldest member of the Allegheny County Planning commission and a pioneer in Pennsylvania oil development, who died Tuesday, will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Gray funeral home in Sewickley.

Mr. Robison was a brother of Mrs. Harry M. Wirsing of East street, this city. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. Ida R. Chester of Bellevue.

Mr. Robison, who was still operating oil wells in Stowe, Kennedy and Robison townships, followed his father in the oil business and operated as an oil producer throughout Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio and Kentucky. He was the oldest member of the Duquesne club and a member of several Masonic organizations.

MERCURY-BEARING ORE

(International News Service)

EOISE, Ida.—A new, high grade deposit of mercury-bearing ore has been discovered in the yellow pine area of Valley county, Ida. The bureau of mines has described the discovery as of "possible great importance to the nation's war production schedule."

Tests of the latest drill samples showed one averaging 11 pounds of mercury per ton, with a 15-foot section averaging 22 pounds per ton. The ore is contained in a body 24 feet thick.

Hopkins-Macy Wedding Quiet

No Press, Radio, Or Picture Service Representatives Are Present

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The Hopkins-Macy wedding at the White House today took place without any representatives of the press, radio or picture services present—at the express direction of the bride.

Shortly before the noon ceremony, Mrs. Louise Macy issued the following statement through Presidential Secretary Stephen T. Early:

"The friendly interest in our wedding is deeply appreciated by Mr. Hopkins and me. But we believe the grave days of war through which we are passing, with the sacrifices being made everywhere by the American people, make a simple and private wedding preferable just now. We feel, therefore, that our friends will understand why we have decided not to have a formal ceremony or to invite representatives of the press, the radio or the picture services, to observe and publicize our wedding."

Sweeny Warns On Potential Rackets

State Official Cites Situation Developing Around Children Of Working Mothers

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 30—Secretary of Welfare E. Arthur Sweeny issued a warning today against "potential rackets" centering around the care of children whose mothers are employed in war industries.

"There is considerable discussion nowadays, about the setting up of day nurseries for children of defense workers," said Sweeny. "Many persons of kindly intent have discovered that there is not only great satisfaction in opening their homes for the care of children of working mothers but that there is also financial profit to be derived from such work."

The welfare secretary said that there is "apparently a general lack of information regarding the responsibilities attached to such services." The welfare department, he stated, "is charged by law with the power and duty of inspecting and supervising 'any individual who, for hire, gain or reward, receives for care a child.'"

"Should any person or persons, individually or in an organized capacity, take a child or children not their close relatives into their homes for daytime care or longer, the department can send someone to that home to inquire into the kind of care being giving the children and to supervise the services," asserted Sweeny.

Persons who desire to care for more than one infant under three years of age for more than 24 hours must first obtain a license from the Department of Welfare, advised the secretary.

The Department of Welfare intends to guard children against being made "objects of mere financial profit," he warned.

Army Flier For Bond Sales Of 100 Per Cent

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, July 30—Lieut. B. A. Passanante, Philadelphia army flier who lost a leg on the opening day of the war when Jap planes bombed an airfield in Luzon, believes in nothing less than 100 per cent bond sales.

"You can boast of 98 per cent buying bonds," he told a rally last night, "but remember, it's 100 per cent of the boys who go over the top . . . it's 100 per cent of the boys who fight for you and who risk their lives daily."

A free land is one where the leader must quit saving the people every month or so and take time out to explain why he hasn't won yet.

Cleveland Gets Girl Life-Guards

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND — Cleveland's first free community bomb shelter was completed today and, ironically enough, was built by a German immigrant who said his first loyalty was to his adopted homeland.

It is called Bill's Free Community Bomb Shelter and it will accommodate 400 people. Built by William Filsinger at his own expense, the shelter is a 17 by 12 feet room which extends nine feet below ground. It has a two-foot concrete floor and walls of concrete four feet thick.

Filsinger, who operates a gas station known as "Bill's", said the shelter cost him about $4,000. In the event Clevelanders don't have to use it for bomb shelters, they can use it for meeting places, club room or a "nice, cool wine cellar."

Filsinger came to this country from Heidelberg in 1922. He lives in Euclid with his wife, Freda, and two children, Richard, 15, and Gertrude, 10.

Quits Important Musical Job To Work In Shipyard

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO—The Smith family is all out for war and with but one thing in mind—revenge.

Chester Smith, father of the clan, is employed at the Richmond, Cal., shipyards as a shipfitter's helper. He shelved a career as musical director for radio program to take the job helping produce ships for America's allies.

One son is graduating this month as a musician, first class, at the United States army base at San Diego. His second son is in the Royal Canadian Air Force.

The trio have all entered the war effort since December 7, when the Arizona was blasted to the bottom at Pearl Harbor killing his third son, a 21-year-old non-commissioned officer of the navy.

Raise Flag At Local Plant

Minute-Man Flag Formally Raised At DuPont Plant On Sampson Street

WAR BOND SALES ARE RECOGNIZED

Five Boy Scouts raised a blue and white flag to the top of a mast. A group of workmen cheered. And the flag and the cheering spelled bad news for a former paper hanger in Berlin and former blacksmith in Rome.

The flag was a Minute Man flag signifying that the workers will invest ten per cent of their weekly earnings in War Bonds and Stamps. The workmen were those of the duPont E. I. deNemours and Co., plant on Sampson street. The time was Wednesday, July 29 at noon.

Minute Ban flags are awarded where a plan has 90 per cent or more of its employes investing ten per cent of their wages inn war bonds or stamps. In the case of the plant in question the percentage is 100 for every employe is riding the ten per cent wagon.

Wilson Heads Ceremony

A. L. Wilson of the company acted as the master of ceremonies at the flag raising. Mott V. Hyde, chairman of the payroll deduction plan was introduced and spoke briefly. He congratulated the employes upon their co-operation in the purchase of bonds and spoke admiringly of the many plants that have been awarded flags.

Judge W. Walter Braham made the presentation of the flag. Judge Braham reminded the employes that tanks and guns cost money and that the money must and will come from the men and women of America.

H. C. Hadsell, plant manager was introduced and accepted the flag in behalf of the company and the employes. Then the Minute Man flag went up, with the following Boy Scouts aiding in the raising. Bud Fisher, Don Graham, Roscoe Kirkpatrick, Don Tanner and Don Ruby. They were under the direction of Scoutmaster M. J. McCloskey. The flag raising was held in the area directly in front of the office of the company.

Haney's Employees Picnic At Lakewood

Annual Outing Attended By 150; Honor Archie Thompson Of U. S. Air Corps With Gift

In keeping with their annual custom, employes of the Haney Furniture Co., together with members of their families, left this city at 12 noon Wednesday in a caravan of cars and made their destination Lakewood, where they enjoyed a picnic outing. William Trick Sr. and Miss Helen Keder were co-chairmen of arrangements for the 1942 get-together.

The gala occasion was attended by upwards of 150 guests, and all joined in the jovial event with the spirit of "having fun."

Starting festivities off, a bountiful dinner course was served at 12 o'clock at tables well laden with tasty dishes, showing that a number of the ladies are definitely gifted in the culinery art.

During the hours that followed, many joined in boating, swimming and other contests arranged by the sports committee composed of David Vago, William Vincent and David Riley. In the jitterbug feature, William Trick Jr. and Eileen O'Leary captured the honors. Announcer for the day was Verne Carr.

A highlight which echoed with a proud spirit and yet with the pangs of war lent a tinge of sadness, was the bidding farewell to one of their number, Archie Thompson of the shipping department, who recently joined the United States Air Corps. Cadet Thompson was escorted to the speakers stand by two of the eldest employes of the local Haney Furniture company, David Sneathen and William Trick Sr., where he was presented with a gold wrist watch by General Manager Emanuel Shenken as a farewell remembrance. Cadet Thompson leaves to assume his duties for Uncle Sam within a few days.

Dinner was served at 6 o'clock in the evening, and with dancing and other informal pastimes claiming attention of guests, they tapered off with a wiener roast, with the assemblage departing for home at midnight.

OPINION HANDED DOWN

In an opinion handed down by Judge John G. Lamoree on Wednesday a bill of complaint is found to be deficient and permission granted to file a new bill within fifteen days. The opinion is in the case of Societa Di Mutuo Soccorso Christoforo Colombo (Society of Mutual Helpfulness of Christopher Columbus), a corporation against Stella D. Lombardo, Charlotte Russo, Julia Augustine, Concetta Mastres, Jeanne Di Dario, Teresa Di Piero, Jeanette Di Dominick, Anna Domenick, representing themselves and all others interested of the members of an unincorporated association under the joint title of Christopher Columbus auxiliary.

The auxiliary was organized in 1937. Sometime the auxiliary withdrew from the club rooms of the Christopher Columbus society and took over other rooms calling themselves the Christopher Columbus society auxiliary.

The Christopher Columbus society claimed that the auxiliary had taken certain pieces of furniture away from the club house and also had a bank account of about $700 which they allege the auxiliary had no right to confiscate.

A suit in equit was filed asking that the auxiliary be restrained from using the furniture and the bank account. To this suit the women of the auxiliary replied that the bill of complaint was improperly drawn and entered objections.

Most of the objections were upheld and the bill of complaint dismissed with permission to file an amended bill of complaint within fifteen days or the decision is final.

RISE IN HONEY OUTPUT

(International News Service)

STATE COLLEGE, Pa.—To the average American, "buckwheat" means breakfast pancakes, but in these days of sugar rationing and labor shortage the crop is being used for honey production and economic feeding also, according to J. W. White, professor of soil technology at the Pennsylvania State college. When the plants are in flower, an acre of buckwheat may supply enough nectar for bees to make 100 to 150 pounds of honey, Professor White said.

Old-Timers' Day Notable Success

Ewing Park Program On Wednesday Interests Large Crowd

ELMER CONNER HEADS PROGRAM

ELLWOOD CITY, July 30.—"Having the time of my life. I've seen people I haven't seen for 40 years," those were the expressions heard most frequently at the Old Timers Day celebration of the Golden Jubilee, on Wednesday afternoon at Ewing Park.

Washouts may have been reported from the hard rainstorm that swept the city in the morning, but none of them came from the Old Timers gathering. Undoubtedly the storm and the tire situation did curtail the attendance somewhat, but the several hundred persons that did attend really had one grand time greeting their former neighbors and friends.

There wasn't any formal program, but now and then a period of general reminiscing took place over the public address system, with Elmer Conner doing the emceeing. Mr. Conner, who will celebrate 49 years of operating a clothing store next October, was chairman of the event.

Among those speaking were: J. W. Offutt, Jubilee chairman; R. J. Schill, who introduced the Jubilee queen, Mildred Rhea, and Miss Columbia, Miss Phyliss Duncan; Atty. J. W. Humphrey, John Powell, Mrs. Ketterer, of Wampum; Mrs. Rae Chambers, Mrs. J. W. Humphrey, Dr. C. M. Iseman, who established an office here in 1895, 47 years ago; Joe Schwensburg, William Guthrie, of Erie, fire chief here from 1907 to 1914; Frank Main, "Cap" Moon, of New Castle, who was the police department, chief and all, "away back when"; John T. Young, who come here in 1892; Mrs. Albert Dahl, Lawrence, Rabberman, Lydia McConahy, Amos Wiley, William Cole, who was born in what is now Ellwood 80 years ago; G. S. Young, the town's oldest business man, and Rev. C. Z. Bell, who came here at the turn of the century; Burgess Clyde B. Houk, and many others.

In the afternoon a splendid sports program was conducted at the softball diamond for all children of the community by R. J. Schill, aided by playground attendants.

To the old-timers was served 50 gallons of lemonade, 40 gallons of coffee and 1,000 ice cream bars. In charge of this activity was Harry Twentier, Everett G. Young and Lewis G. Young. They did a fine job of handling the big assignment.

Among the visitors from a distance registering were: Ethel R. Runyan Brock, Rochester; Mrs. John Mong (Nettie Main) Barberton, O.; Norman H. Keefer, New Castle; Mrs. Lucy Trigg, Youngstown; Mrs. Laura Parker, New Castle; Mrs. Margaret Fallor, Enon Valley; Mrs. Sarah Markwort, McKeesport; Mrs. Lillie White Shannon, Akron, and Elmer Newton, New Wilmington; Mrs. C. F. Turk, New Castle; Mrs. Elizabeth Allen, Akron; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dambach, Duquesne; Mrs. Virginia Thompson Leyda, Milwaukee; Mrs. Sadie Main Long, Erie; Carter Cunningham, Warren; Louise Greer Volk, Sharon; Elizabeth Nye Miller, Rochester; Mary Bell Shoemaker, Beaver Falls; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Endress, Youngstown; Mr. and Mrs. Howard McLaughlin, Beaver Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schweinsburg, Norristown, Pa.; Mrs. Lucia Thompson, Hammond, Ind.; George and Ralph Vernor, Greenville; Mr. and Mrs. B. Sudden Storm Ends Old Timers' Ball Game

ELLWOOD CITY, July 30.—There can't help but be many a stiff muscle and aching joint today as the result of the old-timers baseball game staged on Wednesday night at Ewing Park as a result of the Old Timers Day celebration of Ellwood's Golden Jubilee.

The game was terminated at the end of the fourth inning when a sudden rain of almost cloudburst proportion broke from a sun filled sky. Players and fans alike were soaked before reaching shelter.

Locally, baseball has been eclipsed for a good many years by softball, but at one time Ellwood City produced some of the best hard ball teams in the district. For the game, hundreds of fans lined the field to see the "boys" that made baseball history here, and as each member came to the plate he was greeted by long applause.

The players, formed into two teams, were garbed in the suits that were worn at baseball's centennial anniversary in 1940 at Cooperstown, N. Y., and with the addition of sideburns and mustaches they presented an amusing sight.

The game was fraught with sentiment as a tribute was paid to the late Connie Wardman, father of baseball in Ellwood. The balls used in the game were donated by Mrs. Wardman as prized possessions of the well-known Connie.

The former diamond stars proved that they still had "plenty on the ball", as they really made some good hits and catches.

Incidetnally, the Yellows won over the Greens with the score being 6 to 0.

Making up the Yellow team were: Ray Dallenbach, catcher; Carlo Johns, pitcher; Jesse Brown, shortstop; Holiday Newton, first base; G. Lytle, second base; Fred Sanders, third base; Jay MacDonald, left field; Brynn Badger, now of Cleveland, center field, and Clyde Cunningham, right field. Substitutes were Sam Houk, Dave Jones, Archie Powell and Harold Marshall. Brown, Newton, Lytle, who incidenatlly played with the Old Forge team in 1903, Fred Sanders, MacDonald and Houk scored runs. Sanders made a round tripper, which immensely thrilled the spectators.

Playing for the Greens were: Bill Fitzgerald, catcher; Pat Boyle, pitcher; Dolly Shaffer, shortstop; Goven MacMurdo, first base; Grundy Vole, second; Bill Bayers, third base; Joe Latiano, left field; Mike Sanders, center field, and Theo Patterson, right field. The Greens didn't make any runs but they did make some grand hits. Many other players would have taken part if it hadn't rained.

Tom Marshall, Ellwood's first ball player and father of the Marshall of high school football fame, was introduced and batted one ball.

The umpires were old time ones, too, being Chance Forbush and Andy McCaslin.

The game was a smash hit with the jubilee celebrators and credit for its arrangements goes to Harold Marshall and Merrit F. Book.

Last Rock Point Picnic In 1910, Were You There?

Carl W. Wible, Aliquippa, Established Final Closing Of Once Popular Park

ELLWOOD CITY, July 30 — When the conversation get around to Rock Point Park as it usually does when a group of old-timers get together, the old argument of just when the park closed finally comes up and is never quite definely settled.

At Wednesday's Old Timers celebration of Ellwood's Golden Jubilee, Carl W. Wible, formerly of this city and now of Aliquippa, definitely established the closing of the park on Labor Day, 1910.

On that day the Avalon club of Ellwood held a large community picnic and dance. "There was a wonderful crowd," and when it was all over we were forty-two cents to the good," Wible declared. He was the secretary and treasurer of the event and members of his committee included: Frank Morgan, Van Kashner, Bill Robbins, Jack Duncan, Dick Sims and Lawrence Stevenson.

For the information of the "young fry" it might be said that Rock Point Park, a summer resort and picnic grounds, was located three miles west of Ellwood at the junction of the Beaver river and Connoquenessing creek.

The name was suggested by the immense mass of rock that jutted out, almost over-hanging the large stone building or Matheny Tavern that stood close to the canal locks. The old tavern was built in 1836 by Moses Matheny as a hotel after the opening of the Beaver Division of the Erie-Pittsburgh Canal.

The picnic ground was owned by T. Warnock and he had a license in 1881. In 1882 the ground was sold to Dr F. Venn, of Pittsburgh, who conducted the hotel as a health resort until 1885. At that time the Pennsylvania railroad bought the grounds and tavern which they used as a depot and telegraph office. They improved the grounds, built numerous buildings such as dance halls, hotel and amusement stands, erected a long shelter at the tracks and laid a siding for excursion trains. Old-timers recall that the crowds were "crowds".

Some of the largest excursions were made between May 1 and September 1890 to 1900 although it did remain a popular park until the last closing in 1910. Madison Main was policeman at the park from 1886 to 1891. The scenic beauty of the park was unexcelled in the district and with the name are associated many happy memories.

Reserved seats for tonight are sold-out but there are still general admission tickets available. A record crowd is anticipated.

The group inculded: Anna Markle Flansburg, New Castle; Fanny McClure, Anna Evans Bathgate, Ella McAllister Richards, Ida Scheidemantle Hazen, Mary Wehman Fleeger, Della Clark Haswell, Bessie Ketterer Hazen, Effie Swick Kay, Anna Adams Moore, Birdie Scheidemantle Haswell, Amanda Rice Duncan, Maude Biggins Price, Amelia Cron Reese, Ella Evans Francis, Mary Rowe, Clodie Keller Book, Gertrude McAllister, Mary Palm Duncan, Ida Lackey Wehman and Sadie White McMurdo of Ellwood City.

The event was arranged by Mrs. Sadie McMurdo, Mrs. Mary Duncan, Mrs. Ida Wehman and Mrs. Clodie Book and was so enjoyable that it was decided to make it an annual affair with all other employees being invited.

All-Out for Bonds

The United States treasury department is campaigning to get workers to deduct 10 per cent from their pay for War Bonds, but Lawrence Tracy and Eloise Smith, employes of the Consolidated Steel corporation, Orange, Tex., shipbuilders, have done much, much better. Tracy, a pipefitter, has authorized a deduction of 80 per cent from his paychecks and Miss Smith, a payroll clerk, is having 60 per cent deducted from her check for War Bonds. They are pictured above holding the bonds they already have received.

Do You Remember 1892 Happenings?

Review Of Old Publications Reveal Many Interesting And Amusing Events

ELLWOOD CITY, July 30.—Ellwood City, founded in 1889 and formally organized as a boro in 1892, this week is celebrating its fiftieth anniversary.

A review of old publications of the summer of 1892 reveals many interesting happenings of that period. Among them were:

The Peary Arctic expedition reached Independence Bay; in a row between Pinkerton detectives and some Carnegie mill strikers, 10 men were killed and 60 wounded; at Minneapolis the Republican convention backed Benjamin Harrison for a second presidential term; at Chicago the Democrats chose Grover Cleveland; Poland saw the arrest of some two thousand Nihilists, and Cyrus Field, co-founder of the Atlantic Telegraph company, died.

"Double Dan, the Dastard," was the most popular dime novel, and the song hits were "Ta-ra-ra-ra Boom-de-ay" (a version of which still seems to be quite popular) and "The Bowry, the Bowry, They Do Such Things and Say Such Things."

Corsets (girdles to you young things) were plentiful at 88 cents, the advertisements show, and eggs were five cents a dozen.

The fashion editors say that "We are through with bell skirts. Fashioners in Paris have decreed that skirts shall be short and barely touch the ground." The beauty writer declared that "women could not afford to do without bangs as they are the most universally becoming mode of hairdress that has ever been known." She must have had something there judging from the modified curly bangs now in fashion.

Another fashion editor advised a reader that "Crimson is a picturesque color for a feminine camping dress." A short blue kilt skirt, a little above the ankles, makes a striking costume with a blue corduroy velvet jacket, blue and white striped tennis shirt, russet leather leggings and a big red felt sombrero, was the costume described as the most appropriate. Quite a contrast to today's shorts and slacks.

Fifty years from now, they'll be smiling at the customs of 1942.

Ellwood 'Firsts' Recalled By Golden Jubileers

ELLWOOD CITY, July 30—Among the citizens conneceted with the early history and growth of Ellwood City, which this week is celebrating its fiftieth anniversary, were:

John Blackford, who was connected with the Derwent Foundry.

R. C. Stiefel coming to this country, and to Ellwood City in 1894, was an engineer of world renown, being the inventor of Seamless Tubing. He was the founder of the Standard Seamless Tube company, now the National Tube company. He was also one of the founders and owners of the Standard Engineering company, now the Aetna Standard company. He did more, perhaps, than any other man to make Ellwood the large town it is now by bringing industries here.

H. S. Blatt, who came in 1891, built the Blatt block. He was a one time postmaster, school director and burgess.

Dr. H. C. Birchard, conducted a drug store, and established the business later conducted by his son, Frank Birchard.

Frederick E. Poister, owner and editor of "The Ellwood Citizen". He was a public spirited man and a public speaker of ability. His wife and daughter, Mrs. Bessie Martin, reside here today.

M. A. Riley was for many years connected with the glass industry, and had many inventions for the improvement of finishing glassware, which are used today. He was also a prominent sportsman.

Richard T. Brown came to Ellwood from Erie. He was a mill superintendent at the Shelby Steel Tube company when ground was broken for the big mill, and was associated with R. C. Stiefel.

Jacob and Scott Corl were early settlers of the town. Jacob Corl was a county commissioner and his influence aided greatly in securing the Fifth street bridge. He died before his term was completed and Harry Clark completed his term.

James J. Menice was one of the earliest residents. He came in the fall of 1889 from Beaver Falls with Henry W. Hartman, the founder. On April 20, 1890, he moved his family here and occupied a farm house. It was in this house that Mary Ellwood Meneice was born on May 20, 1890, the first child to be born in Ellwood. He was a member of the first boro council.

Charles Helling, associated with the Northwood glass company came to Ellwood in 1891 and his family have been among the most prominent of the town. Dr. H. E. Helling is the youngest son of the family.

A. C. Frey built the house that is now occupied by the Elks Lodge. He was interested in the lumber business and was one of the organizers of the Merchants and Manufacturers club.

Captain A. C. Grove, Civil War veteran, came to town in 1891 establishing a hardware business.

Maurice W. Cox was the first barber. He was followed closely by George Fike, Edward Allison and Andrew Weber. His shop passed into the hands of L. M. Infield and in addition was used as an office by Burgess Robert Aiken and Chief of Police, Linsay Cunningham.

William J. McKim came to Ellwood as assistant cashier of the First National bank and later became a director and cashier.

To Alex Main must go credit for laying out the city and for wise planning that has made possible its expansion. Mr. Main became boro engineer in 1897.

David Cartwright was one of Ellwood's earliest grocerymen. At present he operates a hardware with son, Paul.

In 1896, Attorney Joseph W. Humphrey moved to Ellwood City where he has sinced resided and practiced law. He has been the boro solicitor since 1898, which is a remarkable record. He has organized many corporations in Ellwood, and in 1922 organized the Ellwood Rotary club and was the first president.

D. C. Hancher came to Ellwood in 1896 to accept a position in a clothing store, and later became superintendent of the public schools. He was also at various times editor of an Ellwood paper and in 1920 founded the Citizens bank. Mr. Hancher died several months ago having devoted most of his active career to a real estate business.

HOME HIT BY BOLT, FIREMEN ARE CALLED

Lighting struck the chimney at the home of J. R. Jaraski, off the New Castle-Ellwood City road, last night at 7:30, and volunteer firemen of Shenango township were summoned. They found no flames, but said the bolt did extensive damage.

The subs are licking us. How long must we endure it before changing command? Subs can be licked, and we've got to find the man to do it.

Shenango Residents On Friday To See Gas Demonstration

Volunteer Firemen, Defense Workers Called For Instruction

Demonstrations of war gases and how civilian populations should cope with them will feature a joint meeting of Shenango township civilian defense workers and volunteer firemen in Shenango township high school auditorium Friday, July 31, at 8 o'clock.

A gas expert will handle the demonstrations.

Presiding will be Ed Dean, civilian defense co-ordinator in the township. The meeting will give the defense groups credit on their special course.

Township leaders announced today that the township has been presented with a 1939 Chevrolet panel truck for use as a first aid coach for the duration of the war. The use of the truck has been granted by its owner, Joseph J. Frengel, a resident of the township.

Long delayed by priority regulations, the new $5,000 fire truck ordered by the township months ago is expected to be brought here from Elmira, N. Y., within a month. One of the country's largest makers of fire trucks is outfitting the apparatus.

Senators To Make Trip To Alaska For War Probe

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—With permission granted by the war department, the way was clear today for members of the Senate military affairs sub-committee to leave San Francisco August 5 for Alaska to make a through investigation of the war situation in the Aleutian islands.

The committee is composed of Senators Chandler (D) Kentucky, chairman; Holman (R) Ore., Kilgore (D) West Virginia, and Wallgren (D) Wash. They will be accompanied by members of the Truman investigating committee, which also includes Senator Wallgren, and Senators Hatch (D) New Mexico, and Burton (R) Ohio.

Members of the latter committee spent the past two days inspecting military installations in the San Francisco Bay area and were expected to continue their investigation today with a tour of defense plants in Southern California.

Rain Falls At Waynesburg On July 29 Again

WAYNESBURG, Pa., July 30.—A light drizzle at 12:51 p. m. and which lasted for about 15 minutes Wednesday upheld Waynesburg's unique July 29 rain tradition.

Townspeople went deliriously happy when the drizzle dropped in from the west and the bell in the court house tower pealed out 29 times to herald the tidings that the anticipated precipitation had come again.

Attorney John Daily, the town's official July 29 rain prophet, collected a $5 war stamp instead of a new hat this year, when his standing wager of a new hat was drafted for the war effort. Joe Williams, New York sports writer, was on the short end of this year's bet. According to local records rain has failed to fall here on July 29 only three times in 67 years.

Cleveland's First Community Bomb Shelter Is Ready

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, July 30.—Cartoons depicting the lack of tall, handsome life-guards to intrigue the bathing beauties became a reality when Huntington Park beach officials asked James Danner, captain of the Huntington guards, to "toughen up" some women for the job this year.

A 10-day training period was arranged for the girls to go through a program of weight-lifting, calisthenics, water drills, and general water safety work. The unusual practice of working out with the bar bells was introduced by Danner to prepare the new guards for the rigorous work ahead and to enable them to "control all persons within their jurisdiction."

The girls are accredited American Red Cross water safety unit members and most of them are sophomores or juniors in college.

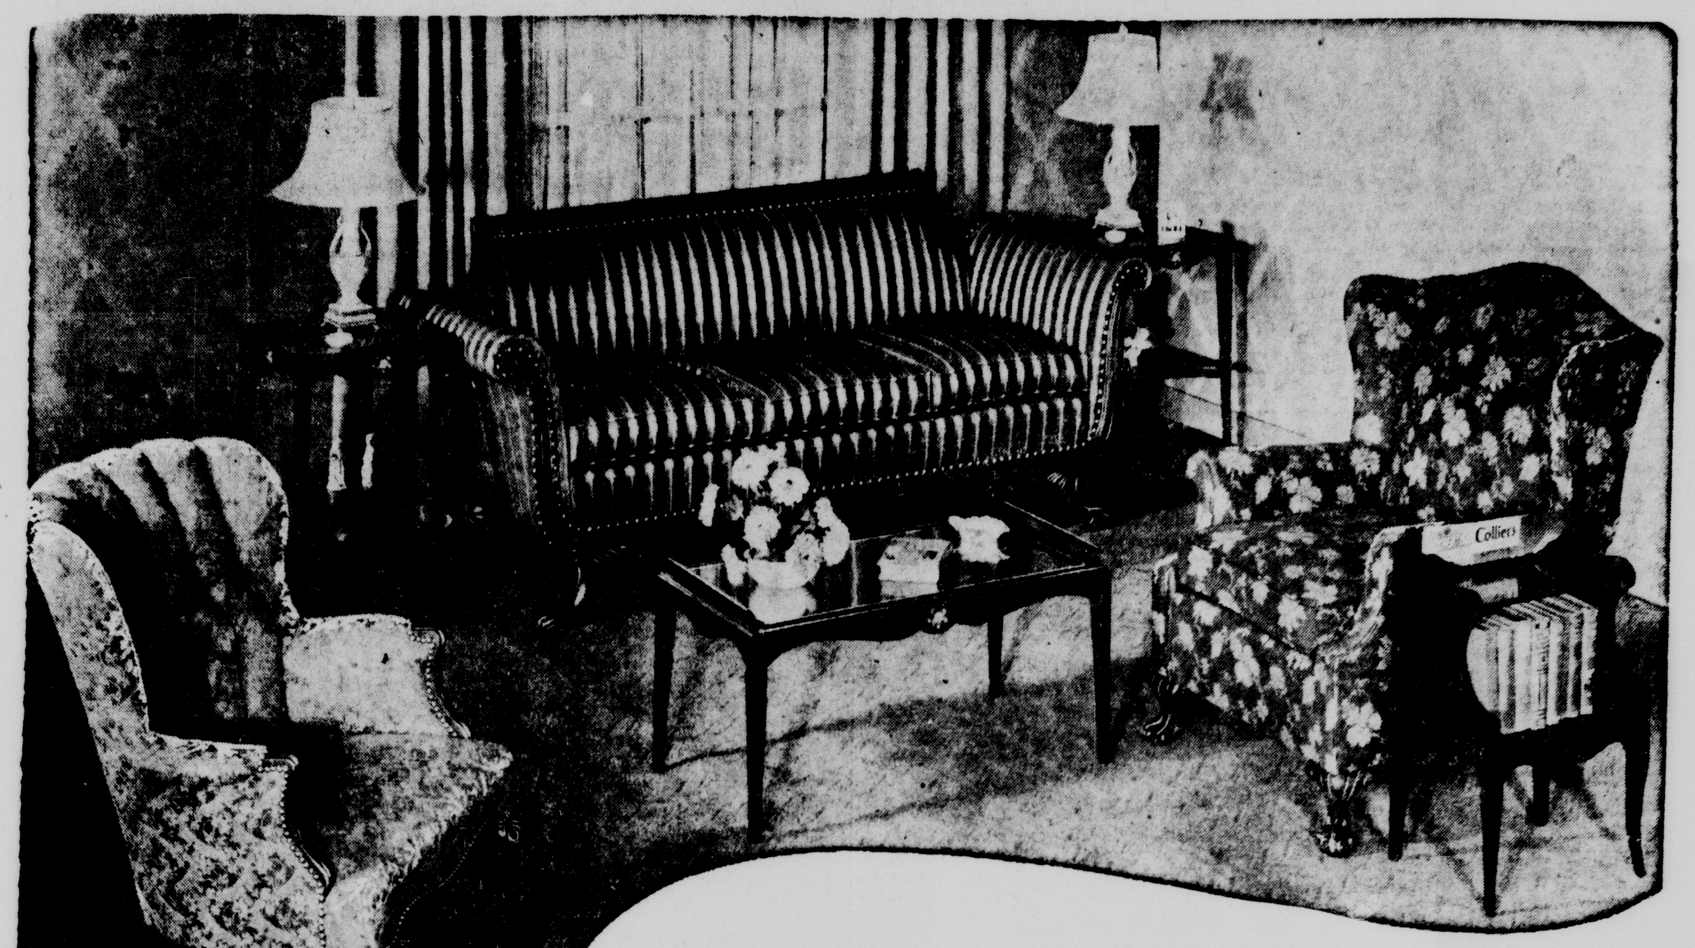

Stranger Faints On Washington St.

Breaking the usual calm and quiet of the unemployment office on the corner of Mill and Washington streets, a man fainted and fell down the long steep stairway leading to the offices yesterday afternoon.

John Velker of the unemployment office went to the fallen man's aid but saw he could do nothing and called the police. At the police station the man said his name was Edwards and it was learned that he had lived on Duquesne street, N. S., Pittsburgh.

He seemed weak and his memory was bad and it was surmised that Edwards was tired and hungry. After a rest at the station he was released.

Antique Gadget For Buggy Tires Pays Dividends

(International News Service)

NORRISTOWN, Pa.—Rationing has been a boon to Harry L. Wolf, who runs a little repair shop in Norristown.

For years friends advised this stocky oldtimer to get rid of a 25-year-old, 5-ton hydraulic tiresetter, used by carriage repair men. "You will never use it," they said. But Harry kept the tire-setter.

Like magic, with gas and rubber tire rationing, came a stream of horse-drawn phaetons, surreys, buckboards, ponycarts and a host of "horse and buggy days" contraptions from nearby estates.

And the old tire-setter, which set Wolf back $1,200 a quarter of a century ago, is once more paying dividends.

TRUCK DRIVERS STRIKE SUSPENDS PITTSBURGH PRESS

Racing Donates War Charity Over Million

Moguls Confident Figure Will Hit $2,000,000 Mark By This Fall

TOTAL DONATION NOW $1,162,935.50

By JACK MAHON
(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 30.—King Horse, his bosses, jockeys and good old John Q. Bettor, the guy whose hard-earned dollars support various starving mutuel machines around the country, has raised a total of $1,162,935.50 for war charity so far this summer, and what's more, the gang is going to hit the $2,000,000 mark—and maybe will surpass it with ease—this fall!

This good news was revealed by Chairman Herbert Bayard Swope of the turf committee of America today as he submitted the first report of his board's progress for the most worthy cause.

Committee Confident

Swope pointed out that $1,065,655.18 was contributed by the racing associations, and that $97,280.32 came from individual contributions.

With this start and Rockingham, the half-mile tracks in New England and Maryland, and Saratoga, still to be heard from—plus a sensational all-championship day under consideration to wind up the New York season—the turf committee is supremely confident they will soar past their original goal.

At the moment it is not possible to estimate just how much Saratoga will be able to contribute. President George H. Bull has assured the committee the track will do its part with a generous donation but will have to wait until the association sees how the gas and tire rationing and transportation difficulties effect the season at the upstate Spa.

Swope said that the Delaware track had not been heard from. This association is the only major racing plant of those now active in the country which has not been overly-anxious to do its part in aiding the various war charities and no explanation was forthcoming from either the turf committee or Delaware executives.

Though plans haven't been completed, Mr. Swope has an idea that they should provide the outstanding racing day of all time, if it can be arranged.

This would be held at Belmont Park, November 7, and would be an all champions day. It would bring together the best two-year-old colts in a race; another would pit the best two-year-old fillies.

Many Feature Races

Among the other features would be races for three-year-old colts and geldings; for three-year-old fillies; for four-year-olds and up, and for four-year-old and up mares; a two-and-one-half-mile cross-country race and a special sprint for the outstanding horses of all ages. A match race between Whirlaway, Alsab, Shut Out and any other handicap stars might also be included or subbed for any of the above features. All profits would go to the service funds.

Swope would ask the jockeys, mutuel clerks, owners and trainers to donate their services and those of their horses to this great day and prizes, not money, would be offered to the winners.

The Giants led the Yankees and Dodgers in home run production during May with 48. The Yankees hit 40 and the Dodgers 29.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

When a boxer isn't battling another boxer he often engages in spats with his manager. We have noted this from the careers of the late Tony Ross and Jimmy Dime. The latest squabble concerned Tommy Leach and Russell Baxter. What caused their difficulties isn't known to us. However, Bax' jumped out of the amateurs and got himself a pro' fight. Yesterday he told us he would like to have Tommy in the corner with him tonight against Jack Carpenter of Warren. O. Tommy returned this morning from a visit with his son, Corporal Buster Pagley and Baxter's statement nas been given to Leach with the result that fans will find them together tonight in Youngstown. One-Sided Games In Legion League

Two one-sided contests were played in the American Legion Junior League last evening, Fannins continuing their dizzy pace by trouncing the North Hill Ramblers, at Washington high field, 14-3, while Dean Park Dodgers were downing West Side Pirates, 10-1 at Dean Park.

Shehady with a triple and Tanner, a double, led the Fannins attack, Bevan, nad Jenkins also getting two apiece. Jopek and Frazier allowed but four hits.

Deweys' Big Fourth Defeats Saints, 10-8

Scampering across home plate five times in the fourth, the crack Dewey aggregation pinned a 10-8 City-County Independent Baseball league setback on the chins of St. Margaret nine Wednesday night on Croton field.

Eddie "Ace" Cowden pitched well enough for the winners, limiting the seventh warders to seven hits. "Lindy" Lauro was moving along well until the Deweys solved his offerings. Hopper, J. Adams and N. Lucas featured at bat with extra base hits for the Deweys.

Score by innings:				R	H	E
Saints	..031	301—	8	7	2
Deweys	..202	501—10		9	2

FALKENBURG WINS AGAIN

KALAMAZOO, Mich., July 30.—The western junior tennis championships moved into the quarter-finals today with Bob Falkenburg, Los Angeles, national interscholastic champion, pitted against Fred Kovaleski, Hamtramck, Mich., ace in the feature match. Falkenburg moved into the quarter-finals with a 6-3, 6 3 win over Bob Stuckert, Milwaukee.

West Pittsburg Eyes Top Post; Takes On Moose

Important Game Tonight On Marshall Field; Bessemer At Ellwood City

ELDERS-L. INDIES ON CEDAR GROUNDS

City Baseball league title-minded aggregations tonight don their flannels for another round of battles billed for four sandlots, starting at 6 o'clock.

West Pittsburg's meeting with the Moose booked for Marshall field, Scott street, is the leading engagement.

The winning team will be rewarded with first place. The rival clubs are setting the pace, each sporting four wins against a single setback.

"Blackie" Fundoots, manager of the burgers, said he may use "Scotty" Morrison, lean west sider, on the knoll. "Fiz" Rodenbaugh, pilot of the first half champs, remained mum relative to his twirling selection.

Ellwood At Home

Bessemer's fracas with Ellwood City, carded for Ewing Park, Ellwood City, will add a sportive taste to the golden jubilee now being celebrated. The Ellwoodians boast of two wins against three losses, a similar record posted thus far by the "Cementers".

Two of the most bitter athletic rivals, the Slovaks and Croton A. C., swap baseball wits on Cascade field in what should be a thrill-packed battle. Croton Tuesday left its first place station by losing to West Pittsburg, the setback being the second of the current drive. The Slovaks were on the short end of a 7-2 count in their Tuesday skirmish with the Moose.

The Lawrence Indies, their spirits lifted by Tuesday's surprise 8-1 verdict at the expense of Bessemer, sets out to mow down the Elder A. C. on Cedar street grounds. The Elders, with George Byak in the manager's seat, have rang the victory bell twice so far against three losses.

The Indies have slipped into the cellar with one triumph against four defeats.

Mahon Predicts Angott Triumph

Foresees Washington (Pa.) Mitter Blasting Robinson's 121 Winning Streak

ROBINSON HELD A 2 TO 1 FAVORITE

By JACK MAHON
(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 30.—Get off that limb, squirrel—here comes an expert, part-time, to predict the longest winning streak in boxing history will be snapped by Sammy Angott at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night!

Ray Robinson, proprietor of said victory string, which is alleged to have been stretched through 89 amateur and 32 professional bouts to date, is a very nice, young man and is the hottest dish currently being served along Jacobs Beach—but darned if we don't think tough Samuel isn't going to tear up the menu!

Ray 2-1 Favorite

This will be considered treason by many other paid up members of the experts union, who have made Sugar Ray a 2 to 1 favorite to repeat his victory of a year ago over Sammy. They have pointed out Ray was only a recent graduate from the amateurs at that time and that Angott was a seasoned fighter; that Ray has improved, like good brew, 100 per cent in the ensuing year and that Angott is slowing up.

For one thing our man Sam won the world's lightweight title and successfully defended it against Allie Stolz; he gave Bob Montgomery, hitherto regarded as one of the No. 1 lightweight and welterweight contenders no less than three shellackings and has now picked out the toughest man in the smaller divisions as his next opponent.

One thing most fans forget about Angott is that he very seldom loses a fight. Would you be surprised to know our Samuel has lost but two dukes in the last two years. One was to Robinson, in a very close battle, a year ago this month and the other to Fritzie Zivic in August of 1940!

Robinson "Hot"

Because Robinson is "hot" right now and is a showy workman and Angott is a plodder, who wins every fight the hard way, the mob is going solidly for Sugar Ray, which is rational.

We have never won nay medals on that score and don't intend to start now but because of Sammy's fine record against opponents in return matches, his determination to snap Robinson's streak and avenge that "lucky" punch, we're going to stick with pugilism's "man with the hoe".

If you want to learn all about that citizen, walk, do not run, to your nearest public library. We haven't time or the space to explain about it, now—and, besides, the newsboy has just arrived with our racing form.

Three City-County Battles On Friday

Secretary Nick Lucas today said that three City-County Independent Baseball league clashes will be played on Friday night.

The classy card pairs the Rockets and Keystones on Ryantown field; Rex and Deweys on Croton field, and Wampum and St. Margaret's on E. & A. grounds, Mahoningtown.

FAIR or FOUL

By LAWTON CARVER
INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK, July 30.—One of the worst demonstrations of poor sportsmanship ever to occur in a major tournament lingers like a hangover as the golfing circus known as the Tam O'Shanter open at Chicago goes into the record book for another year.

The event, according to all reports, was conducted along the general lines of a Fiesta at Coney Island combined with some of the features of a Ringling Brothers extravaganza, but was a lavish success except for one incident that marred everything.

This was the grandstanding of Joe Kirkwood, the veteran "side show" or trick shot artist from Australia, who refused to wear an identifying number on his back and was disqualified, whereupon Tommy Armour, the elderly Scotch stylist, took himself to the sidelines in a one-man strike because Kirkwood had been booted out.

Some of the boys besides Kirkwood and Armour also protested against wearing the little placards that would enable the paying guests to know who they were, meetings were held and bickering became epidemic, but they quickly settled down under a threat to call the whole thing off.

What Messrs. Kirkwood and Armour fail to realize is that the public, which makes possible the golf purses, long has been eager to see something done to make it easier to identify golfers in the major tournaments. They all look pretty much alike to the casual galleryite and even a veteran follower of the game might be stumped in trying to establish the identity of the numerous newcomers who pop into golf every year.

With the oafish conduct at Chicago some of the professionals killed a chance to make more and faster friends among the ladies and gents who pay the freight.

They also take into account the fact that wearing numbers would not be such a terrible blow to their dignity as they assumed, inasmuch as in nearly all other branches of athletics—football, horse racing, baseball, basketball, hockey and the rest—players are tagged.

Golfers are not a chosen few from the sports scramble; they are no different from the rest who make their living off the public. They merely fail to realize an obligation to that public.

One other thing that might be pointed out, too, is that wearing a number in pursuit of rich prizes on a golf course is a small thing compared with packing a rifle or standing watch at sea at the regular rate of pay in the army or navy. From the proceeds of the Tam O'Shanter open, $10,000 went to service relief funds.

In normal times such nonsense as this that disrupted the Chicago tournament would be laughed off as a burst of temperament or a grandstand play for publicity, but right now these incidents magnify themselves into demonstrations of poor sportsmanship and bad taste.

Other than the tournament ran almost strictly to form, even with Byron Nelson blowing up and nearly blowing himself out of it before he finally retained the title in a playoff with Clayton Heafner.

Along the golfing trail they tell you that Nelson is about to be overcome by the so-called leaping meemies which gets nearly all of the tournament performers sooner or later. For a few years he was the coolest and deadliest man to be found in any major championship. Then he began to blow short putts here and there and to hit vital shots astray.

White Sox Trip Yankees Twice

Joe DiMaggio Ups Batting Average To Even .300 Dodgers Shade Cards, 4-3

SEWELL NAILS 11TH; INDIANS TOP BOSTON

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 30.—Eight games in front in the National league pennant race today, the Brooklyn Dodgers did just a little more than make it two out of three over the St. Louis Cardinals in their series at Ebbets Field.

That final victory, by a count of 4 to 3, was particularly satisfying to the pace-setters because it enabled them to pull up even with the Cards in wins and losses shared by the two clubs this season. The Dodgers now have won seven from the Cards and lost a like number to their most persistent pursuers during the last two years.

Last season the Dodgers won the pennant, but with no appreciable help from the Cards, who split exactly even for the season in games between the two, the count being 11 and 11.

Then as now, the Dodgers held an edge over all others.

Slaughter Stars

To come up even, the pace-setters had to go all out in the short series which ended with last night's twilight game cut to seven innings because of dim-out regulaitons. Enos Slaughter had put the invaders ahead in the first by a run with a home run, the Dodgers tied it is the third, then scored three more for a three-run edge, only to see Slaughter send two more runs over with a double in the seventh, after which it ended.

The Cards out-hit the Dodgers by 9 to 6 and seemed far from a beaten club, although John Whitlow Wyatt managed to snare the victory finally for his 12th against three defeats, as Mort Cooper was charged with the loss, his fifth against 12 wins.

The Chicago Cubs and New York Giants split a double-header, the former winning the opener, 4 to 2, and the Giants coming back to take the nightcap, 3 to 1.

Hi Bithorn won the opener for the Cubs and Van Lingle Mungo, the ex-Dodger just brought back from the minors, lost it for the Giants, while homers by Dick Bartell and Babe Young settled the issue in behalf of the Giants in the second.

Truett Sewell won his 11th game of the season for the Pittsburgh Pirates over the Boston Braves, 3 to 0, and did it with a neatly turned five-hitter, in the opener of a double bil, whereupon the Braves took the second behind Jim Tobin, 6 to 5.

A Cincinnati-Philadelphia night game was postponed.

Yanks Drop Two

The New York Yankees' American league lead today stood at 12 games after their twilight-night game twin bill with the Chicago White Sox. The Yanks made five runs in the third of the opener with the aid of Joe DiMaggio's two-run homer, but the Sox came on to win 6 to 5 in 11 innings. In the nightcap, DiMaggio got his batting average up to an even .300 with two blows in three times at bat but the Yanks still lost, 7-5.

Meantime, the second place Boston Red Sox dropped a ragged 7 to 6 victory to the Cleveland Indians who received 10 bases on balls, while the Red Sox were receiving 11 in an orgy of ineffective hurling.

The Detroit Tigers, who previously had won only three of 18 games, resorted to a revamped lineup and downed the Philadelphia Athletics, 12 to 7, while the Washington Senators beat the St. Louis Browns, 11 to 10, with a four-run rally in the ninth.

Arcaro Is Named To Ride Whirlaway

World's Leading Money-Winner Can Add $25,000 Arlington Handicap To List

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, July 30.—The veteran Eddie Arcaro was named today as the probable jockey on Whirlaway, the world's leading money-winner, in the $25,000 Arlington handicap at Arlington Park Saturday.

Ben Jones, trainer for Warren Wright's Calumet stable, said Eddie would be here Saturday to ride "Mr. Longtail" if the Greentree stable, which has first call, does not have a stake nominee going at Saratoga the same day. Eddie rode Whirlaway to victory in the Kentucky Derby last year and in other important races since.

If Arcaro is able to fill the Chicago engagement, he also will be on Valdina Orphan in the $7,500 Victory handicap, one of the two stakes for that amount which have been added to the Arlington program. The other is the Cleopatra handicap.

Alsab is eligible for the mile and a quarter Arlington handicap and also for the mile and a furlong Victory handicap, but Owner Al Sabath had not indicated in which of the two, if either, the bargain colt would run.

Other possible starters against Whirlaway were Valdina Farm's Rounders, Louis B. Mayer's Reading II, Darby Dan Farm's Best Seller, Joseph E. Widener's Moscow II, B. B. Robinson's No Competition, David Strauss' Daily Trouble and Hugh Nesbitt's Staretor.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Sports, jingle, jingle, jangle:

Golf's Houdini, Joe Kirkwood, uncorks his wizardry along the Ellwood City Country club course late Friday afternoon. The exhibition is part of Ellwood City's Golden Jubilee program.

Joe O'Leary, personable manager of the Elder A. C., has resigned his post. George Byak, a veteran of local sandlots for more than two decades and one of the shrewdest heads in the game here, has accepted the post.

Ellwood City will play the remainder of its City Baseball league Sunday "home" games on Ewing Park field, Ellwood City. Heretofore the Socials played their Sunday "home" tiffs on Lee avenue field here.

Frank "Jewie" Cohen is now attached with the Croton A. C. baseball club, according to a report reaching this repot..."Ducky" Guinaugh, one of the classiest performers in the City loop, is playing in Youngstown's double A circuit.

Regarded as having among the keenest batting eyes in baseball, Paul Waner is so near-sighted that he can't read signs on National league park fences!...Ted Williams of Boston has autographed a Philly football contract. He's not the Williams of the Boston Red Sox. Ted is a halfback of Boston college fame.

A report that some racing fans have been booing Whirlaway makes you wonder what in the world a human being can get out of jeering a horse...Friday's Angott-Robinson fight will be aired by WCAE starting at 10. Sammy, who fought here in his amateur days, tries to snap Sugar's 121 victory string (89 in amateurs, 32 pros).

"Buddy" (AWOL) Rosar apparently is still in Joe McCarthy's doghouse. He's been keeping his seat on the Yankee bench real hot since shufflin' off to Buffalo....Rollie Hemsley, who got a new lease on life as a result of the escapade, hasn't stalled the Yankee hitting machine at all.

SPECIAL FOOTBALL TRAINS RULED OUT

National Football Conference Solons Sure Colleges Will Co-operte; Group Meets

CINCINNATI, July 30.—Special football trains for fans this year are "out," the National Football Conference commissioners meeting in Cincinnati decreed today.

Other drastic changes in store for the gridiron sports carnival this fall include the majority of football teams shifting to regular means of transportation rather than the especially chartered cars, trains and busses of a season ago.

The gathering was concluded with a clarification of rules, highlight of which was the "25-second rule" which caused quite a bit of confusion last year. Whereas in the past, referees were confused as to when to start the 25-second count when a stream of substitutes would appear on the field, the committee decided that the count should be made as soon as the ball is placed in position.

If substitutions are not made within the 25-second limit, a time-out will be charged against the offending team.

Legion Team To Play Wampum Sunday

Perry S. Gaston Post Junior Entry Will Take On Stiff Opposition

Sunday afternoon at the Lee avenue field, the American Legion Junior team, which will represent the Perry S. Gaston Post in the state elimination tournament to start soon, will play the Wampum team of the City-County League. The game starts at 2:30 o'clock.

The Legion team is a strong combination, and has had a good bit of practice gained through the league, which has functioned during the summer.

Last Sunday, the boys played a strong combination from Hillsville and won by a most lopsided score. The Legion entry showed real class in this game, and expects to give a good account of itself in the coming contest.

Eastern Arkansas Button Industry Revived By War

(International News Service)

JONESBORO, Ark. — Prosperity has returned to thousands of river-folk who dwell along the banks of five streams in eastern Arkansas as the war-necessitated ban on steel zippers and clasps gives re-birth to the one-time million-dollar pearl button industry.

Early and late, along the banks of the Black, White, St. Francis, Spring and Strawberry rivers, men, women, boys and girls are working to supply those pretty pearl buttons which will adorn milady's summer frocks, and probably a majority of feminine clothing for the duration.

Today, some 15 plants in eight Arkansas communities are kept busy in this rejuvenated industry which first zoomed to tremendous proportions about the turn of the century, only to fade out with "modernization" of garments with the extensive use of zippers in recent years.

Center of the industry is at Newport, Ark., on the banks of the White river where five plants are located. Huge stock-piles of gleaming shells attest to the activity in the area.

A. P. Humphirty of Newport, who manages the button plants there and on the Black river at Pocahontas, pointed out that all-time highs for the past decade are now being paid the unnumbered shell-diggers. Rates now range from $10 per ton for pink or the most ordinary type of shell, to $80 per ton for the beautiful sand shells.

Local Woman Has "Tomato-Potato"

Freak Growth Is Found On Potato Plant At Baker Home On Vine Street

Mrs. Bert Baker of 102 Vine street has a freak hybrid growth in her garden, which is exciting the attention of friends and neighbors.

It is a small tomato which has started to grow on a potato vine.

This form of hybrid is not unknown in the vegetable world, a similar occurence having been reported recently from a nearby town. Evidently the bees carried the pollen from a tomato plant nearby to the potato vine, where it pollinated the potato blossom and produced the freak growth.

Tall Shaft To Mark Legion Birthplace

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS—A 22-foot granite monument commemorating St. Louis as the birthplace of the American Legion, will be dedicated at ceremonies in St. Louis in connection with the annual convention of the Monument Builders of America, Inc., in September, Henry Levison, chairman of the American Legion Monument committee, has announced.

Designs for the memorial, which will be erected by the organization, will be submitted by four prominent sculptors, Levison said. The minimum cost of the memorial will be $10,000 but, according to the architect, this amount may be doubled by the time the design is completed.

A contest will be conducted by the Legion to select an inscription. The memorial will be located in the center of the square between Soldiers' Memorial and the public library on the St. Louis Civic Plaza.

National Radiator Executive Is Dead

John Thomas Llewellyn, aged 49, of Johnstown, Pa., secretary-treasurer of the National Radiator company, died suddenly in Johnstown on Wednesday. Death was caused by a heart attack.

Funeral services for Mr. Llewellyn are to be held from his home Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

MORT WANTS CROWN

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS—Mort Cooper may become a new strikeout king in the National League this year. Mort, St. Louis Cardinal ace, was the first man to chalk up his 50th, just a couple steps ahead of John Sam VanderMeer, last year's monarch of the parent loop in whiffing them.

Mort's top year in the majors to date was 1939, when he had 130, but at Houston the year before he totalled 201 in the Texas League before reporting to the Birds in September. That's only one short of the 202 by which the Cincy Reds' Double-No-Hit-Vandy led the National last season.

Garden Hints

As soon as the tops of the potatoes die down they are ready to be dug up. Some home gardeners prefer to dig them as they are needed for the table rather than to store them in the cellar.

When the cabbage heads show signs of cracking they should be bent over to break the root on one side. This assists in checking their growth.

Pick the mature fruits of eggplants, thus giving the younger ones all the available energy to develop.

Late blight of potatoes and celery can be controlled with a 5-5-10 Bordeaux spray mixture.

Place a thin board or shingle under the fruits of watermelons and muskmelons to prevent damage by wireworms.

If the outer leaves of Swiss chard have become very large, cut out the stems and use them separately. The stems can be cooked and used as asparagus in salads, or creamed like celery.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

Here it is the 30th of July . . . just 60 years ago today a farmer lad came to town and started to work on a newspaper . . . today that same lad is here on that same Newspaper. Times have changed the old town in which he lives . . . wars have been fought and won by this Great Nation. All during these past 60 years our friend, grandfather and president of this Company has had but one objective in mind . . . to serve the citizens of his community. He is still on the job and we hope that he will be working away writing his hints and dints for many years to come . . . Congratulations Fred L. Rentz on your 60th Newspaper Anniversary.

Air Raid Wardens are still needed in every section of the town . . . the more people qualified to be Air Raid Wardens and Fire Watchers the better protected the citizens of the community will be . . . and then more people make less for each one to do . . . so get out and talk it over. Stop in or call the Civilian Defense Headquarters, it is located in the city building. Do your part for our National Defense . . . not all can serve in the armed forces or work in the Defense Plants . . . but there is a job for you. Join the OCD.

* * *

An Eskimo Spitz puppy is wanted . . . if you know where such a dog can be had will you please call this office at once . . . your cooperation will be greatly appreciated . . . thanks.

* * *

There are benches on the public square . . . they were put there for women and children to sit on when waiting for the busses or when they need rest after shopping. Not for men who have nothing to do but chew tobacco and spit out all the juice. The sidewalk in front of some of these benches is just flooded with tobacco juice . . . We don't care if the Mayor does chew . . . there should be something done about this condition . . . there's a law about spitting on the sidewalks.

* * *

Sell items that you no longer can find use for . . . and sell them the easy way. Just write an ad . . . count the words . . . every five words costs ten cents . . . 30 cent minimum. Mail to this office. You will be surprised at the answers you receive. And the same goes when you want to buy something . . . use the classified ads.

Food Stamp Plan For 26 Additional Counties

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, July 30.—The federal food stamp plan will begin operating Monday in an additional 26 counties, it was announced today by Theodore J. Wilson, state supervisor of the U. S. Agricultural Marketing Administration.

This will bring to 43 the total number of counties in the state benefiting from the stamp plan, which makes available to people on relief 50 per cent. more food than they are now obtaining and increases by the same amount the sales of participating grocers and wholesalers. The ultimate beneficiary of the federal subsidy program is the farmer.

An estimated 21,000 families, composed of 80,000 persons, were reported eligible in the 26 counties for participation in the program.

Wilson explained that the new plan goes into effect on August 1, but as this date falls on a Saturday, operations will not get underway until August 3.

New Counties

The new counties in which the stamp plan will be placed in operation are: Beaver, Berks, Blair, Bradford, Butler, Centre, Chester, Clearfield, Clinton, Greene, Huntingdon, Lawrence, Lycoming, McKean, Northumberland, Potter, Snyder, Schuylkill, Sullivan, Susquehanna, Tioga, Union, Washington, Wayne, Westmoreland and Wyoming.

As in the 17 counties in which the plan is already operating, administration of the program will be in the hands of the State Department of Public Assistance. Wilson said the federal government was prepared to extend the plan to the remaining 23 counties in the state whenever their county commissioners established a revolving fund from which the original stamps to be used in the plan can be purchased.

Persons on the state's public assistance rolls who wish to participate in the plan purchase orange stamps through the Department of Public Assistance. Thus, a family which normally buys $10 worth of food a week will purchase the same amount of orange stamps. With these stamps they can buy any kind of food they desire from their grocer.

The $10 worth of orange stamps entitle them, however, to an additional 50 per cent, or five dollars in this case, worth of blue stamps. These blue stamps are furnished free and entitle the relief recipient to purchase from his grocer any food listed on the blue stamp list issued monthly by the government.

Such foods include fresh fruits and vegetables, butter, eggs, etc., in counties in which the stamp plan is not operating relief recipients obtain free food from commodity distribution depots. There the relief recipient must accept the food he is given and much of it, especially perishables, are not available, whereas under the stamp plan they are, explained Wilson.

In addition, said Wilson, the food the relief recipient obtains under the stamp plan is worth two or three times as much as that obtained from commodity distribution depots. The food in the depots is purchased by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, while that under the stamp plan is purchased by grocers from their regular channels of trade, asserted Wilson. Under the stamp plan the government aids the farmer by increasing the sales of foods which need market assistance in selling.

Legion Juniors Send Service Men Sweets

At the American Legion home, the regular meeting of the American Legion Juniors, of Post 343, was held.

After the business session, Mrs. Stuart Cope, president of the Senior auxiliary, urged the girls to do their part, helping in the drive, put on by the men of the Legion, in the collection of old and new phonograph records.

Later, the girls packed boxes of candy, gum, and home made cookies, to be sent to sons of the Legionaires who are in the service, who are stationed in many states and overseas. A friend of the Juniors donated a number of cloth bound testaments, which were separately wrapped, and included in the boxes being sent to the boys. This work was in charge of Mrs. Wade F. Abram: A Pioneer In Faith

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Abram's journeying into the land of Canaan.

"Fear not, Abram: I am thy shield, and thy exceeding great reward."—Genesis 15:1.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Aug. 2 is Genesis 11:31-12:9; Hebrews 11:8-12, the Golden Text being Genesis 15:1, "Fear not, Abram, I am thy shield, and thy exceeding great reward.")

Abram was the son of Terah and his wife was Sarai. Terah took Abram with him from Ur, their old home, to journey to the land of Canaan. With him also was Lot, son of Haran, Terah's other son, who had died. The location of Ur was a mystery to us until a few years ago, when archaeologists uncovered evidence that it is the modern site known as Mugheir. It was a great center of pagan worship, we are told, and while Abram lived there, was a town of large commercial activity, and highly developed civilization.

Terah never reached Canaan, however. He and his family arrived at Haran, in northwestern Mesopotamia, and there they settled until Terah's death.

"Now the Lord had said unto Abram, Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house, unto a land that I will shew thee:

"And I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing. And I will bless them that bless thee, and curse them that curseth thee: and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed."

Abram Obeys the Lord

How many people have left their homes and their kinfolks and all that was familiar to go to strange lands and make homes in the wilderness. Not all of them have been godly men, perhaps, like the Pilgrims and the Puritans who journeyed to the New World that they might worship their God according to their conscience. But all must have had faith that by their own efforts and God's help, they could make new homes and found new nations, maybe. Faith, coupled with works, may indeed remove mountains of difficulties.

So Abram (you notice it is not spelled Abraham until some time later) did as the Lord had told him, and with him went Lot, his nephew and Abram's wife Sarai, and all their possessions, and the people who had joined them in Haran; and they all went into the land of Canaan. But first Abram passed through the land unto a place of Sichem, in the plain of Moreh. "And the Canaanite was in the land." Whether the Canaanites opposed Abram and his people at this time we are not told. Apparently not, for it is stated that "the Lord appeared unto Abram, and said, Unto thy seed will I give this land: and there builded he an altar unto the Lord."

Then he went on "unto a mountain on the east of Bethel, and pitched his tent . . . and there he builded an altar unto the Lord, and called upon the name of the Lord.

"And Abram journeyed, going on still toward the south."

The whole world has been blessed by the chidlren of Israel, who are now scattered over the earth. Jesus was born of this nation—an inestimable blessing. This nation it was that had the first knowledge of the One God, and how many famous scientists, poets, writers, physicians and surgeons of this race bless the world with their achievements? Nations who have been kind to them have prospered, and those who have not have perished. Surely not only a lesson of faith, but of tolerance and brotherly kindness should come to us from this lesson of Abram, who was so close to the Lord that He "appeared unto him."

In Hebrews 11, the eighth verse, St. Paul wrote to his friends, "By faith Abram, when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and he went out, not knowing whither he went."

"After these things the word of the Lord came unto Abram in a vision, saying, Fear not, Abram: I am thy shield, and thy exceeding great reward," which is our Golden Text, and our assurance that if we live as God wills we need fear nothing.

R. Rowe, Lt. (jig), the Navy's traveling interviewing officer will be at the Pittsburgh Navy Recruiting station, Third and Smithfield streets. Lt. Rowe will be there from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m. each day.

Craftsmen such as carpenters, electricians, mechanics, sheet metal workers, steelworkers, shipfitters, shipbuilders, painters, metalsmiths, welders, etc., are eligible for enlistment with the "Sea Bees" as the Construction Battalions are known.

Ratings in the Construction Battalions may be assigned up to and including Chief Petty Officer depending upon the applicat's experience.

Enlistments are for the duration and six months and the age range is from 17 to 50 years. Married or unmarried men are acceptable if they pass the physical requirements. The physical requirements for the "Sea Bees" are slightly under those for other branches of Naval service and permit many to enlist who would be ineligible otherwise.

The interviewing officer asks that, if possible, applicants bring three letters of recommendation from former and present employers.

British Soldiers In Rush To Join Commando Units

(International News Service)

LONDON — Announcement that the British government is definitely committed to launch a full-scale continental invasion at the earliest possible moment has resulted in a rush to join the Commandos, it was reported today.

So great is the number of men wanting to become Commandos that only one-quarter of the applicants can be accepted at the moment. This is considered remarkable in view of the high physical standard, initiative and enterprise required of every candidate, who must also be personally recommended by his commanding officer.

Collegiate Stars Drill On August 8

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, July 30.—With 56 of the 75 players elected to the intercollegiate football all-stars team already signed up for the charity game against the Chicago Bears, a squad of 65 was expected today to be on hand for the first practice session at Northwestern university, Aug. 8.

All members of the starting lineup, winners of the nation-wide poll, have accepted invitations to play against the National Football league champions at Soldier field in Chicago the night of Aug. 28.

Bob Westfall, Michigan's great line plunger, telephoned his acceptance from Camp Davis, Jackson, Wyo., and reported that the injury he suffered in a fall from a horse last week was not serious.

"Just give me that ball," Westfall said as he hung up.

FAIL TO CAST BALLOTS

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—Only a small minority of white people use their voting privileges in Alabama. A survey made in connection with the recent Democratic primary showed only 26 per cent of the eligible voters casting ballots.
